General Meade—7-30 Counterfeits—More Appointments of Storekeepers and Gaugers—Indian Matters—The Conclave at Greenbriar—What Gen. Rosecrans says—Re-organization of Custom Houses.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, August 28, 1868.

GENERAL MEADE.

Major General Meade has arrived from Georgia, and was at the War Department several hours to-day in conversation with Secretary Schofield. He will leave Washington to-night on a short visit to Pennsylvania.

COUNTERFEIT SEVEN-THIRTIES

It is stated at the Treasury Department that no counterfeit Seven-thirty notes have been presented for redemption or conversion for several months.

ADDITIONAL APPOINTMENTS.

The following Storekeepers were appointed to-day in the Internal Revenue service: Shepard N. Spaulding, Bradford county, Pennsylvania; Martin A. Ammerman, Columbia county, Pennsylvania; Ephraim W. Ellwell, Columbia county, Pennsylvania; Geo. W. Porter, Greene county, Pennsylvania; Samuel F. Primrose, Richmond, Virginia; S. G. Branch, Virginia.

The following appointments of Gaugers were made: John B. Lockwood, 32d district, New York; Henry C. Plummer, 1st district, New York; Chas. D. Dunham, 3d district, Massachusetts; Chas. Crook, 4th district, New Jersey; Latimer S. Tyler, 2d district, Illinois; Wm. W. Drake, 3d district, New Jersey; Chas. Chamberlain, 5th district, New Jersey; Chas. E. Pease, 6th district, Kentucky; G. H. Faulkner, 3d district, Tennessee; S. F. Cuyler, 2d district, Pennsylvania; Henry M. Baker, 4th district, Massachusetts; Daniel Smart, Jr., 7th district, Massachusetts; J. Irving Barns, 9th district, New York.

FROM THE INDIANS.

The Indian Bureau has received advices from Superintendent Murphy, dated Acheson, Kansas, August 22. He says he fully concurs in the views expressed in General Wynkoop's letter, that the innocent Indians who are trying to keep in good faith their treaty pledges should be protected, while he recommends that the indians who have committed the recent outrages be turned over to the military and be severely punished. In view of the importance of the case he earnestly recommends that the agent, Gen. Wynkoop, be furnished promptly with the views of the Department, and that all instructions be given him for his future action. General Wynkoop suggests that he be empowered to take the Indians whom he knows to be guiltless of the enormities committed on the Saline river, and who are desirous of remaining at peace, and locate them with their lodges and families at some good point which he may select in the vicinity of Fort Larned, and let those Indians be subsisted entirely by the Government until this trouble is over, kept within certain bounds, and let him be furnished with a small battalion of troops for the purpose of protecting them from their own people and from being forced into a war. Let those who refused to respond to his call to come within the bounds prescribed be properly punished. By this means, if war takes place, which he considers inevitable, there will be ability to discriminate between those who deserve punishment and those who do not.

THE CONCLAVE AT WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS.

Gen. Rosecrans returned to Washington this evening and resumed his quarters at Willard's Hotel. Much anxiety having been expressed in regard to the object of his visit to Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs, he was soon after his arrival here asked various questions on that subject, all of which he answered readily and frankly. His responses showed that his purposes had been mis-stated in some of the letters furnished to the press by correspondents at the Springs, while in others there was, to say the least, exaggerated accounts concerning him. So far from his having been sent thither on a political mission, or of having acted in conformity with advice of friends after consultation with them, the visit was at his own option and undertaken for his own personal satisfaction, to ascertain from representative men of the South whether there were any obstacles in the way of peace between that section of the country and the North. He was satisfied the power which organized and sustained the Confederacy for four years against the gigantic efforts of the United States Government to suppress the rebellion, could exercise great influence in restoring peace, order and stability everywhere, and at the same time promote all the material interests of the country. He was received by General Lee and other prominent Southern soldiers with marked cordiality. In all their personal conversations they were frank and unreserved and their conversations were mainly with reference to advancing the common interests, irrespective of the causes which for a time divided the North and South, and resulted in the reconstruction acts of Congress.

General Rosecrans says that his visit was satisfactory and that the temper and tone of those Southerners was worthy and patriotic. As to the authority for the statements that he intended to issue an address signed by those with whom he has been in conference, as his visit was for the purpose of ascertaining for himself their feelings and views he does not know that any publication from him is required or may become necessary. The propriety of any such course rests exclusively with himself.

SOUTH CAROLINA CONSERVATIVE COMMISSIONER.

James B. Campbell, who came hither from Charleston, with a petition of conservative citizens, setting forth the disturbed condition of the State and asking for military protection, was received with cordiality by the President and Secretary Schofield, who sympathize with the subject of his mission. They referred him to the recent orders of Gens. Buchanan and Meade and to the opinion of the Attorney General in that connection, but said nothing further could be done unless an emergency should arise requiring officcial interposition. The Sixth regiment of infantry will, however, be concentrated at Charleston as a precautionary measure.

EMIGRANTS FOR VIRGINIA.

The Richmond Whig of to-day says: Some forty odd persons, originally from Holland, but more recently from Michigan, where there is a large Dutch settlement, arrived in this city on their way to Amelia county, where they will purchase lands already set apart for them and settle. This is the first of the negotiations that we have heretofore spoken of between Rev. Van Koate and General Imboden, and is but the beginning of what we may expect in the same way.

MINNESOTA LANDS.

The Commissioner of the Land Office has transmitted the offices of Greenleaf, St. Peter, and Winebago city land districts, in Minnesota, lists of lands which have heretofore been appropriated by the Secretary of the Interior as inuring to the the State for railroad purposes. The lists embrace an aggregate of 323,324 acres.

REORGANIZATION OF CUSTOM HOUSES.

A. A. Randall, special agent for the Treasury, will leave Washington within a few days under instructions from the Department to visit the different ports of the northern frontier, extending from Pennsylvania to Vermont, with a view to the reorganization and reduction of the forces employed in Custom Houses at those ports.

MILITARY GAZETTE.

Brevet Major General Barry, Colonel 2d Artillery, has been ordered to report in person to the Secretary of War.

Brevet Major Wm. Russell, Jr., 4th Cavalry, has been assigned to duty at headquarters, Department of Louisiana.

GENERAL ROSECRANS

Is expected to reach Washington to-night from his visit to White Sulphur Springs.

General Rosecrans, after receiving further instructions from the State Department, will leave Washington for Brown county, Ohio, to see his family.

The Recent Railway Calamity in Wales—London Cabmen Strike—Paris Editor Fined and Imprisoned—Protection of Emigrants on Shipboard.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, August 28—Evening.—The Coroner's inquest upon the remains of the victims of the late terrible railroad disaster at Abergele, Wales, was commenced in that town to-day. A woman named Dickens, living near the spot where the calamity occurred, and who saw the accident, deposed that she went to assist persons in the burning car, and that some might have been saved but for the fact that aid was refused. Mr. Litteler, the company's agent, discredited statements of witness. He thought it was impossible for any one to go near the fire. He asked the issuance of writs to bring persons who were on board the train to testify before the jury, which were granted. Mr. Townsend and Mr. Hone, who were pasiengers on the train, testified that at the time they thought the fire broke out in the goods van they were unable to see a yard ahead, and that they left the scene unaware that any deaths had occurred. The inquest then adjourned until to-morrow.

LONDON—Evening, August 28.—An immense meeting of cab-men was held to-night. But few cabs were to be seen on the streets, which present an unusually solitary appearance. The meeting resolved to issue a protest against the conduct of railway companies, and that a partial strike should begin at once, which was to become general if the terms demanded are not granted in a week.

FRANCE.

PARIS, August 28.—M. Henri Rochfort, editor of the La Lanterne has been condemned to thirteen months imprisonment in jail, and a fine of 1,000 francs, in the second action brought against him for a violation of the press law.

GERMANY.

BERLIN, August 28.—The North German Consul General sails for New York on the 5th of September, fully empowered to negotiate with the United States for the adoption of measures for the protection of emigrants on ship board.

MUNICH, August 28.—The new army law of Bavaria has been put into practical operation. The Landwehr were out to-day for drill.

RUSSIA.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 28.—Official advices from Bokhara state that the Emir has made a treaty with the Russian commander, accepting the terms offered by the Imperial Government, and that the Russian troops have evacuated Tamarind.

JAPAN.

LONDON, August 28.—Later advices have been received from Japan. The country was still in an unsettled condition. The Mikado had driven the rebels to the north. Foreign troops were still guarding Yokahoma.

GLASGOW, Aug. 28.—The steamer Brittannia from New York arrived to-day.

THE INDIANS.

Depredations Continued—Efforts to Overtake and Punish the Savages.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, August 28.—A Denver dispatch says the Cheyenne and Arrapahoe Indians continue their depredations and are murdering inoffensive settlers in central and eastern Colorado. On Tuesday they attacked Kiowa Station on the Smoky Hill route, capturing thirty horses belonging to the stage company and carrying off one woman and child, whose remains were found yesterday shockingly mutilated and brought here for burial. Another band killed three men at Latham, forty miles below, on the Platte stage route. They chased the Smoky Hill coach several miles yesterday, keeping up a running fire, but without doing any damage. Governor Hall organized a company of sixty volunteers, who left at three o'clock this morning. General Sheridan authorized him to call on the commander of Fort Reynolds for assistance. No doubt every effort will be made to overtake and punish the Indians. Great excitement exists here, as the Indians are stripping the country of all the stock and provisions. Not less than twelve persons are known to have been murdered the past two days. A Cheyenne dispatch says: Edward M. Pratt, of Peoria, Illinois, in company with B. J. Everett, while herding a number of horses, two miles from the city, early this morning, were surprised by five Indians and scalped. He was brought into the hospital, where he died at ten o'clock A. M. The Indians succeeded in driving off thirty horses. Everett escaped.

Another body of Indians are reported to have driven away a large number of stock belonging to Wells, Fargo & Co., twenty miles west, on Crow Creek. Gen. Wessel has sent cavalry in pursuit, but nothing definite is known yet.

A Helena, Montana, dispatch says: On the 22d inst. a party of citizens captured twenty Indians, who were out on a stealing expedition, near old Mission, on the Missouri river. They are en route to Fort Shaw to deliver the Indians to the military authorities.

Gen. Rosecrans' Mission—A Letter from Gen. Lee.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 28.—It is stated that Gen. Rosecrans addressed a letter to Gen. Lee, on affairs of the country, requesting a written expression of the latter's views of a plan of restoring good feeling. Gen. Lee responded, expressing reverence for the constitution, a desire for a complete union of the States as of old, and a belief that his desire was shared by the masses of reflecting people of the South. The South, General Lee says, is anxious for peace and a peaceful administration of the government. They long for the privilege of self government, and that the Southern people will treat the colored people leniently and humanely if left to themselves. He emphatically deplores the attempt to commit the political destines of the South to the colored people before they are prepared for such a responsibility, and considers such an attempt fraught with misfortunes and calamities, and fraught with destruction also to the negroes themselves. His letters are endorsed by Beauregard, Stephens and Stewart.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ATLANTA, GA., August 28.—The Senate to-day confirmed the appointment of H. P. Farrow as Attorney General of the State, and adjourned on account of the death of Representative Moon.

In the House the discussion on the resolution to unseat colored members was resumed. The Chair decided that each colored member should have a hearing by himself, or attorney. After a speech by Mr. Bryant against the resolution, the House adjourned on account of the death of a member.

Robberies at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 28.—Extensive robberies are reported at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, on the part of the workingmen employed therein. It appears that for some time large quantities of copper pipe and other articles have been missing. So large became the losses that the authorities set a watch upon certain suspected parties. Interesting developments resulted on last evening. Eight or ten of the employes of the Yard were taken into custody on suspicion of being implicated in the robberies, and locked up for the night. It is said the copper was taken from the Yard in daylight in carts, and covered over with ashes.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Conflagration in Allegheny—Destructive Fire in Semple's Dry Goods Establishment—$20,000 Worth of Property Destroyed—Fireman Injured.

A destructive fire occurred yesterday morning in Semple's Dry Goods House, Nos. 178 and 180 Federal street, Allegheny, destroying property to the amount of twenty thousand dollars. About ten o'clock A. M., a gentleman on the opposite side of the street observed smoke issuing from the third story of the building, and upon investigation found it to be on fire. The alarm was given immediately from the central box, at City building, but the entire fire department of the city were at that time in the Eighth ward, whither they had proceeded in response to a test alarm, and before the arrival at the scene of conflagration the flames had made such headway that it was with the utmost difficulty the entire destruction of the building with its contents was prevented. The flames were confined to the third floor, but had burst through the windows, and were raging to such an extent that a general conflagration seemed inevitable. The employes of the establishment, when the first alarm was given, endeavored to go into the room where the fire originated, but the intense heat and suffocating smoke drove them back. They then went to work to save the goods, and the most valuable articles on the first and second floors were collected together and piled on the counter in the salesroom, so that they could be readily removed if the exigencies of the case required it. The fire department had arrived by this time, and by a judicious disposition of the force, through their energetic efforts the raging element was brought into subjection and finally extinguished, but before this had been accomplished the entire establishment, from garret to cellar, was flooded with water and the stock of goods more or less damaged.

The room in which the fire broke out contained only a few boxes of goods, principally water proofs, and some band boxes, and they were only partially consumed. There were some old doors, window sash and other rubbish piled up in one corner of the room, which furnished fuel for the flames, and from them it is probable the fire communicated to the roof. The origin of the fire is a mystery, as there had been no fire about the premises for some time past other than gas lights. The flues of the chimneys are not connected in any way with the adjoining buildings, and the windows and skylights, so far as known, were secure.

The stock in store was valued at about $150,000, on which there was an insurance of $45,000. There was also an insurance of $5,000 on the building. The loss on the stock, which will be entirely from water, cannot of course be correctly ascertained at this time, but it is estimated that it will not exceed $20,000. The building is damaged to the amount of $3,000. The Ætna has risks to the amount of $15,000, and the balance is held by home companies.

Levi Kennedy and William Scott, members of the Columbia Hook and Ladder Company, were severely injured. Kennedy's injuries are very serious. He had ascended a ladder to the third story for the purpose of directing a hose stream. Finding the window closed he struck at it with his fist, but it being of heavy plate glass he failed to break the pane. He made a second effort, and succeeded in thrusting his hand through the glass. His wrist came in contact with a sharp piece of glass with such force as to sever the radical artery, and almost cut his hand off. The water which was pouring upon him kept him from fainting, and he descended the ladder as soon as possible, when he was removed to Dr. Herron's office, close by. Scott, who was on the ladder under the window, was struck by a piece of glass on the head, which inflicted a severe but not dangerous wound. Drs. Rhodes, Kirker and others dressed the wounds of the injured men.

We trust the fire will not long interfere with Mr. Semple's business, as the public cannot afford to be long deprived of such a first class shopping depot.

The Sængerfest—The Rink.

Yesterday we visited the Rink in order to be familiar with it when the festivities take place next week, and we found everything in an advanced stage of preparation. At the west end of the huge building a stage is erected intended to accommodate all of the singers, and as there are to be four hundred of these, the size of it may be imagined. About the middle of the south side a neat speakers' stand, with gigantic sounding board, has been built, while in the centre of the hall a really charming rustic fountain has been placed, in the centre of which, on a high pedestal of moss, rock work and ferns, stands an exquisite statue of the witch of the Rhine, the Lorelei, who leans over her harp looking down into the water below as if she were looking from her own romantic home in Rheinland down towards Cologne, watching and waiting for the doomed victims of her witchery. This most beautiful feature of the decoration is the work of our accomplished townsman, Fred. Mayer. The basin of the fountain is some fifteen feet in diameter, and surrounded by a fringe of moss grown rocks and waving ferns, from two sides of which sixteen tiny jets of water curve towards the centre, a minature cascade trickles down the rock work at the west side, and a marvellously beautiful mist fountain cools the air on the west side, making altogether as beautiful a piece of decorative landscape gardening as we have ever seen. Evergreen wreaths are pendant from every one of the many beams, and three score rustic hanging baskets add variety to the decoration of the ceiling. Across the front of the stage three beautiful evergreen arches are thrown, and in evergreen letters are seen the words of Tom Moore:

"Music, oh how faint, how weak!
Language fails before thy spell;
Why should Feeling ever speak
When thou canst breathe her soul so well."

At the opposite end of the building are Schiller's words:

"Nichtswurdig ist die Nation die nicht Ihr alles setzt auf ihre Ehre."

which in English reads:

Unworthy the nation that would not
Sacrifice all for its honor.

Capt. Elliott, the well-known landscape gardener, has superintended these decorations, assisted by Mr. Donaldson, of the Rink.

Besides these natural beauties, an immense amount of brilliant decorations have been brought from New York, and will be in their places, on Monday night when the reception and first grand concert takes place. The tout ensemble of the interior of the building has we think never yet been equalled in Pittsburgh, and is fully worth the price of admission on the first night; when the music will be grand, as may well be imagined, coming from 400 voices, and an orchestra of 40 pieces; but the great event of the whole festival will be the grand concert on Tuesday evening, when F. Moehring's "On the Open Sea" will be produced with all the fine solos, quartettes and choruses.

Seats for either of these concerts can be reserved without extra charge, but as only a certain number has been set aside for this purpose, and as many of those are already taken, we advise all to make haste to secure seats, which can be done at either Kleber & Bro's. or at Mellor's.

TURNERS' HALL.—This building is also being handsomely adorned for the reception of the guests of our German fellow-citizens; we dropped in there, too, yesterday, and found several worthy German women scrubbing for dear life at floors, stairs and sills, and in the halls up stairs and down we saw heaps upon heaps of wreathing, but none had, as yet, been put up. We understand that these wreathes, and also quite a number of mottoes have been prepared by some of the German ladies of the city, who are going to try and make the Turners' Hall rival the Rink in tasteful decoration.

Judging by the pains taken, the enthusiasm evinced, and the beautiful effects already produced, the Germans intend to make an unequalled display, and have a week of unalloyed enjoyment. But, in providing a musical festival, they cater not only for themselves, but for all lovers of music in the neighbornoood, and Americans-born will be heartily welcomed at the concerts by their countrymen by adoption.

Narrow Escape—Fall of a Building.

Yesterday afternoon about one o'clock a small one storied building on Pennsylvania avenue, owned by Patrick O'Brien, fell to the ground, the occupants making a narrow escape from being buried in the ruins. It seems that workmen have been engaged in excavating a cellar on the adjoining property, and had undermined and braced the building to keep it from falling while the work was going on. Yesterday, at the time mentioned, it began to give way, and the workmen had scarcely time to warn the occupants and retreat before it fell with a terrible crash. One part of the building was occupied by Mr. O'Brien as a paint shop and the remaining room was taken up by a tonsorial establishment. It was built with frame studding, the interstices being filled in with brick. A few minutes before the fall there were several persons in the paint and barber shops, but they all escaped without injury. We did not learn the estimated loss.

Triennial Convocation of Knights Templar.

Among the various meetings of importance announced to be held this year none attracts more attention and interest—of the Masonic Fraternity especially—than the triennial convocation of Knights Templar and Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons, to be held in St. Louis, on the 15th of September next. Sir Knight J. N. Abbey, of Philadelphia, has been entrusted with the responsible duty of arranging the trains over the various routes, and has issued a very excellent programme. All who intend participating in the ceremonies will meet at Pittsburgh, Pa., on the 12th of September, which place they will leave at 9:30 A. M., arriving in St. Louis on Sunday, the 13th, at 3:15 P. M. Special trains, without sleeping cars, have been provided. Excursion tickets for the round trip will be issued at half price.

Very Disorderly.

A man named McClosky was brought before Mayor Drum, yesterday, charged, on oath of Mr. Johnson, with disorderly conduct. It seems that Johnson, who has charge of the stall in the market belonging to the Allegheny Poor Farm, covered his products and went to see the fire at Semple's dry goods establishment. While he was away it is alleged that McClosky took possession of the stand and commenced to sell the articles on hand. When Johnson returned the new proprietor refused to give up the stand, accompanying his refusal with some language which made the offense much more aggravating. Officer Shaffer arrested the fellow, and, after a hearing, the Mayor imposed a fine of twenty dollars and costs, which he paid, and was discharged.

The Opera House.

The Opera House has undergone a thorough refitting and renovation and will reopen for the season on Friday night next. The doorways have been handsomely painted; the staircases at both entrances have been painted, cleaned and otherwise renovated; the interior of the house has had its capabilities fully developed. It has been repainted and repapered, and now presents a very handsome appearance. The ceilings over the dress and family circles have been papered with neat and elegant panel paper. The balustrade in front of the gallery has been painted anew and the private boxes have been fitted up very nicely. The new drop curtain, painted by the skilful artist, Mr. Palmer, we have already alluded to. It is a very beautifully executep scene, and it will add to the already high reputation of the artist.

Upon the whole the Opera House as refitted and refurnished will prove quite attractive to the amusement lovers. If the management has shown equally creditable enterprise in securing a good stock company to grace the boards the coming season, the patrons of the establishment will have little cause for complaint. We have not yet seen any special announcement of the stock secured, but we feel that the experience of last season has prompted a reform in this direction, for it would be blind folly to attempt to redeem the place from the odium of last season with a repetition of the same style of mean acting. We are hopeful that our exertions to effect an improvement in the style of histronic artists at the Opera House have not been wholly without fruit, but that the management has secured a creditable company.

We are prepared to criticize with a free pen, but with considerate justice and liberality, the performances at the Opera House during the coming season. This course we deem the proper one for a conscientious journal to pursue, for the reader should never be deceived into visiting places unworthy a visit by any fulsome flattery of a newspaper. Just criticism, and plenty of it, may preserve any place of amusement from running down so low as was the Opera House at the close of the last season. If the members of the new company have talent, and the Opera House proves worthy the support of the admirers of the drama, none will be more willing or better pleased to assert the fact and encourage the management than the GAZETTE, if otherwise, none will be more decided in condemning that which calls for condemnation.

Held for Court

The rioters engaged in the disturbance at the picnic of the colored folks had a hearing before Mayor Drum yesterday. Daniel Wills, Charles Talbot, Thomas Hanson, Albert Barber, Frank Roan, Charles Ramsey and George Godfrey were held in $300 each for their appearance at Court. Joseph Smith, the remaining party, charged with being implicated in the disturbance, was discharged, the evidence adduced being insufficient to justify his detention.

THE GAMESTER'S WIFE.

This rare, because pleasing passage, in the domestic history of a gamester (we do not mean the having a wife too good for him—which must be the case with all gamesters whose wives are good for anything—but the agreeable surprise which she had prepared for him against his downfall) is related by Goldsmith; in his life of Beau Nash. It looks, says Mr. Leigh Hunt, like a page out of one of Fielding's novels:

At Tunbridge, in the year 1815, Mr. J. Hedges made a very brilliant appearance; he had been married about two years to a young lady of great beauty and large fortune; they had one child, a boy, on whom they bestowed all that affection which they could spare from each other. He knew nothing of gaming, nor seemed to have the least passion for play; but he was unacquainted with his own heart: he began by degrees to bet at the table for trifling sums, and his soul took fire at the prospect of immediate gain; he was soon surrounded by sharpers, who with calmness lay in ambush for his fortune, and coolly took advantage of the precipitancy of his passions.

His lady perceived the ruin of her family approaching, but, at first, without being able to form any scheme to prevent it. She advised with his brother, who at that time was possessed of a small fellowship at Cambridge. It was easily seen that whatever passion took the lead in her husband's mind, seemed to be there fixed unalterably; it was determined, therefore, to let him pursue fortune, but previously take measure to prevent the pursuit being fatal.

Accordingly, every night, this gentleman was a constant attendant at the hazard tables; he understood neither the arts of sharpers, nor even the allowed strokes of a connoiseur, yet still he played. The consequence is obvious; he lost his estate, his equipage, his wife's jewels, and every other moveable that could be parted with, except a repeating watch. His agony, upon this occasion was inexpressible; he was even mean enough to ask a gentleman who sat near to lend him a few pieces, in order to turn his fortune, but this prudent gamester, who plainly saw there was no expectations of being repaid, refused to lend a farthing, alleging a former resolution against lending. Hedges was at last furious with the continuance of ill-success, and pulling out his watch, asked if any person in the company would set him sixty guineas upon it. The company were silent; he then demanded fifty; still no answer; he sunk to forty, thirty, twenty; finding the company still without answering, he cried out, "By heavens, it shall never go for less!" and dashed it against the floor, at the same time attempting to dash out his brains against the marble chimney-piece.

This last act of desperation immediately excited the attention of the whole company; they instantly gathered round, and prevented the effects of his passion; and after he again became cool, he was permitted to return home, with sullen disconcent, to his wife. Upon his entering her apartment, she received him with her usual tenderness and satisfaction; while he answered her caresses with contempt and severity, his disposition being quite altered with his misfortunes. "But, my dear Jemmy," says his wife, "perhaps you dont know the news I have to tell; my mamma's old uncle is dead, the messenger is now in the house, and you know his estate is settled upon you." This account seemed to increase his agony, and looking angrily at her, he cried,—"There you are in wrong, my dear; his estate is not settled upon me." "I beg your pardon, says she, I really thought it was, at least you always told me so." "No," returned he, "as sure as you and I are to be miserable here, and our children beggers hereafter, I have sold the reversion of it this day, and have lost every farthing I got for it at the hazard table." "What, all?" replied the lady. "Yes, every farthing," returned he, "and I owe a thousand pounds more than I have got to pay." Thus speaking, he took a few frantic steps across the room. When the lady had enjoyed his perplexity—"No, my dear," cried she, "you have lost but a trifle, and you owe nothing; your brother and I have taken care to prevent the effects of your rashness, and are actually the persons who have won your fortune; we employed proper persons for this purpose, who brought their winnings to me. Your money, your equipage, are in my possesison, and I here return them to you, from whom they were lately taken. I only ask permission to keep my jewels, and to keep you, my greatest jewel, from such dangers for the future." Her prudence had the proper effect, He ever after retained a sense of his former follies, and never played again, even for amusement.

Horrible History of a Glutton.

Grenadier Tarare, who died recently at Florence, was one of the greatest gluttons of modern times. He devoured in the course of twenty-four hours a quarter of beef; a breakfast, prepared for ten or twelve persons, he would despatch in a very few minutes. He ate limestones, corks, and nearly everything that fell into his hands A favorite food of his were snakes, which he relished better than the fattest eels. He devoured the largest snakes he got hold of alive, without leaving anything of them. When he was once employed as assisant in a hospital, he seized a large tomcat, and was already occupied in tearing it alive when Dr. Lorenzi, chief surgeon of the army, was sent for. Tarare held the cat by the neck and tail and tore its belly with his teeth, sucking the blood, and soon leaving nothing of it except the bones; whereupon he gnawed, like a beast of prey, at the skin, to the horrur of the hospital assistants who witnessed the repulsive scene. These assistants said they had seen him drink with the utmost avidity the blood of patients that had been bled, and others caught him in eating pieces out of the corpses at the charnel house. When it finally appeared that this cannibal had devoured the whole corpse of a child, he was dismissed from the hospital, where he filled everybody with unspeakable horror. He died, twenty-six years old, of a putrid diarrhœa, resulting from mortification of his bowels.

TAAT inexhaustible reservoir of aphorisms, the Talmud, supplies the following, which have been only recently translated:

For man who has been ruined by women, there is no law and no judge.

When the axe already touches thy neck, still hope in a God's saving grace.

Hang the sweetest grass round a pig's neck it will still go and wallow in the mire.

When the jackal has his day, make him a bow.

He who rents one garden, may eat birds; who rents many, the birds will eat him.

Eat below your means, dwell according to your means, but spend on your wife and children above your means.

First understand, then argue.

Man was created on the last day; even the great has a more ancient lineage.

He who throws out suspicions, should at once be suspected himself.

Death of a Revolutionary Soldier's Widow—Six Generations of Her Descendants at the Funeral.

To the Editors of the New York Evening Post:

On my last Ssturday night's visit to my country residence at Valley Forge, Pa., the first words from all the children, after the usual welcome, were: "Oh, paper, good old grandmother Posey is dead, and we are all invited to the funeral. She died on Thursday morning, and was one hundred and two years and ten months old, and might have lived many years longer if she had not received a stroke of palsy which carried her off suddenly. None of us expected she would die for many years yet, she appeared so well.

Here followed a long account of the manner in which the good old lady had within a few weeks entertained the family by the recital of some of her remembrances of Washington and his army while encamped upon those memorable grounds during the severe winter of 1777-8. She told how herself and mother knit stockings for the poor soldiers, and how, the army being in need af horses, her father let them have all his; and she remembered the exact amount her father received for each, and the kind of money the quartermaster paid him with. Her father was intimate with Washington, and frequently spent the evening at the General's quarters.

Up to within a short time, she frequently visited the same old quarters, which are in perfect order, and now occupied as a dwelling. She would tell how hard her mother worked all one day in preparing bread and butter, while she distributed it to the tired and hungry soldiers as they passed her father's house on their way to the battle of the Brandywine, a short distance from there. Her husband, Micagia Posey, who was much older than herself, was a Revolutionary soldier, fought under Colonel Bull, was wounded and taken prisoner, and after enduring many hardships was exchanged. After the war they were married, and lived happily together until his death, which occurred forty-one years ago, in the eighty-seventh year of his age.

While attending the funeral services of our aged friend, we were forcibly struck by the character and appearance of the mourners. The chief of these were those of her children who were living, except one daughter, aged eighty, too old and feeble to attend; next came white haired grandchildren, followed by great-grandchildren, many of them quite grey; after these a large number of great-great-grandchildren, grown to man and womanhood, with several of their children, these last representatives the last at the funeral.

Mrs. Rachel Posey had ten children, eighty-one grandchildren, one hundred and nineteen great grandchildren, thirty-three great-great-grandchildren.

Victor Hugo.

Francis Victor Hugo, the son of the novelist, writes as follows to a weekly paper of New York city concerning his father's forthcoming novel:

The papers have announced that the author of Les Miserables is about to publish a romance entitled Quatre vingt treize, and a drama entitled "Des Jumeaux." The truth is that the romance Quatre-vingt treize is not begun, and that the drama "Les Jumeaux," begun in 1839, was interrupted in the fourth act, and so left for twenty-nine years, Victor Hugo (allow me to speak of him as though I were not the most respectful of his sons) is concluding at this moment a romance in four volumes, the scene of which is laid in England, while the action passes at the conclusion of the seventeenth century and at the commencement of the eighteenth. The few initiated who have seen this new work predict for it the same success which was enjoyed by Notre Dame de Paris, and Les Miserables. I am not sufficiently impartial to confirm or to contradict a prophecy that is gratifying to me. Victor Hugo is now writing the concluding chapters. You will probably have the opportunity of seeing this new romance in the course of the winter. What is its title? The author himself, as yet, does not know. He is hesitating between two titles, which, hitherto, have pleased him equally. The first is L'Homme qui Rit (the man who laughs). The second is Par Ordre du Roi (by order of the King.) The first title gives the best idea of the book; the second is the best resume of its action. The first is the most philosophical; the second is the most dramatic. In my coming letter I may be able to inform you which of the two has been selected.

NEW YORK is indignant at her prospects in the way of a grand Italian opera. The Times sums up the situation quoad Mapleson, thus: "Tietjens and Kellogg, both members of Mr. Mapleson's troupe, will undoubtedly be here, and every lover of music will heartily give them welcome. The company who are to support these artists is formed of material also 'secured' from Her Majesty's Opera, but it is such as Mr. Mapleson would scarcely venture to send to Manchester, Dublin or Liverpool. The tenors, for instance, are said to be Ferensi and Bulterini, both of whom were dead failures at Drury Lane; the first as Raoal in the 'Hugenots,' and the second at the Duke in 'Rigoletto.' Very different these from Mongini or Franschini, the two greatest tenors now alive. Mlle. Sinico is a poor substitute for Mlld. Trebelli, and so on with the rest. An exception must be made in favor of Mr. Santley, who, of course, will undoubtedly add to the renown of the troupe. He is an admirable baritone—full voiced as a vocalist, and intelligent as an actor. But, after all, can such a company fulfill the expectations that are formed of it? We think not: especially when it is remembered that the ochestra and chorus will have to be 'picked up' on this side."

AMERICAN SILVER COIN IN CANADA.—The outcry in Canada against the circulation of the silver half dollars and quarter dollars of the United States is said to have originated with the banks of the British provinces. The American coinage deprived them of the profits derived from the issue of their small notes, and hence they refused to accept it on deposit, except at a discount. But the fact that this refusal to receive the money of the United States is injuring the Canadians has at last been discovered. At Kingston the dry goods merchants and grocers have given notice that they will take our silver at par. At Toronto the combination against it has been broken up, in consequence of the defection of a jeweler, who knew its worth, and now it is taken by all classes in that city at its par value. It is the same at Brantford, Chatham, and other places. The example is sure to be followed, and our money will soon be taken for what it is worth by all classes in Canada.

THE Citizen says, in denying the story of the destitution of Gen. Halpine's widow and children: "The income so liberally retained for them by Gov. Fenton, acting on the suggestion of Mr. Greeley, will pay off the mortgage on their house, and will secure them the rent of that at least, besides what may be realized from the interest of Gen. Halpine in the Citizen. The deceased, although liberal, and almost extravagant, had a horror of debts and incurred none of consequence except when he was running for office, when they were inevitable. Had he lived out his term of office, his wife, in whose name his savings, whatever they were, were invariably placed, would have been comfortably off under all contingencies."

EDUCATIONAL.

THE WESTERN UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Every Parent and Guardian who has a son or ward to educate should know that we have in our city a Chartered Institution, endowed by the state and the generous friends of learning to the amount of $200 000 Preparatory, Commercial, Scientific and Collegiate in character, with a Faculty ten in number, and a course of study equal to that of our best Colleges. The rooms are large and high, and the apparatus and cabinet of a superior kind. The Observatory belonging to it has one of the finest telescopes in the country, is endowed, is in charge of an astronomer of great ability, and is having four new instrumets added to it at an expense of $5 000. All the income from endowment and from tuition is expended in supporting the institution. The aim of the Board of Trustees, who are among our most enterprising and benevolent citizens, is to furnish the best advantages to all our youth equal to those enjoyed in any of our cities. The instruction in all the courses of study is thorough, no temporary expedients being resorted to to secure popularity merely. Only Professors of ability and experience are employed.
Catalogues or information may be had by calling at the University Building, corner of ROSS AND DIAMOND STREETS, between 9½ and 11½ A. M. The next term will commence September 1st.

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, August 28, 1868.

CATTLE.

The market for Cattle, since the date of our last review, Wednesday evening, has been moderately active, the sales, in the aggregate, being about as large as usual at this time in the week. Most of the Philadelphia buyers leave for home on Wednesday evening, and about the only buyers in attendance yesterday and to-day, were stock-growers from the eastern part of the State, with the exception of one or two, who ship to New York. There was a fair supply of cattle in the pens to-day, but the majority of them were through Cattle, and, as a consequence, were not offered here; the supply on sale, however, was about equal to the demand, and while prime shipping and good stock Cattle continue to meet with a steady demand, common and scalawag stock is about as dull as ever. As will be seen by reference to sales, prime to extra fat cattle sold at from 7 to 7¼c, and one very choice drove of Indiana steers brought 8¼c.

Corbett sold 51 head of prime shipping cattle, weighing 59,850, to Klemen, at 6,75.

Kearny to Aull 21 head of medium stock, weighing 18,400, at 5,75.

H. Hill to Yohn 12 head, weighing 13,825, at 6,50, and 7, weighing 6,125, at 5

Talbott to H. Miller & Co. 32 head of extra shipping steers, weighing 38,600, at 7,25.

Smith & Blue sold 19 head for Brooks to Duffy, weighing 19,000, at 6,10.

Carter sold 20 head of fairish stockers, weighing 17.700, to Chapman at 4¾.

Orr & Williams sold 18 head, weighing 485, for Renz to Klemen at 4,50.

W. Phillips sold 39 head of good shipping stock to Landis at 6¼.

Shields sold 13 head, weighing 14,400, to McArdle at 6,50; also, 4 head of extra steers to Klemen at 7¾.

Munroe to Miller & Co. 18 head, weighing 9,250, at 6,25.

Shields to Lamb 32 head of extra fat steers, weighing 48,075, at 8¼.

Koonce to Miller & Co. 18 head good shipping stock, weighing 21,800, at 6,75.

Traurman to McArdle 42 head, weighing 1,650, at 7,10.

Thompson to Mayne & Co. 4 head, on private terms.

SHEEP.

The Sheep market present but little that is really new or important. The supply as a whole is generally the case at this time in the week, is considerably reduced, but there were, nevertheless, more common and scalawag Sheep than there are buyers to take them. Prime fat Sheep are in demand and limited supply, and we quote at 4 to 4½, gross; common and inferior may be quoted from 3 down to almost nothing. The fact that the supply of common and inferior is so deep, is and has been for some weeks past, largely in excess of the demand, while prime fat Sheep, on the other hand, are and have been, in limited supply, and holders experience no difficulty in realizing full prices.

Smith & Blue sold 222 to Aull & Myers at $2,10 per head; 226 to Pearce $2,10 per head; 628 to James Aull at $1,90; and 266 to Aull & Myers at $2,00; 204 to Jas Aull at ¼ per pound; 167 to Fastnaght at 3¾.

Holmes, Lafferty & Co., sold 205 head to Adcock & Erisman at 4,65; 184 to John Palmer at 3,35; 163 to Aull & Myers at 3.

Aull & Myers sold 30 head to Wilson & Hart at 3½; 52 to J Fasnaght at 3¼; 46 to Landis 3¼; 46 to Watson at 3¼.

A & G McPherson sold 74 head to H Deitch—price not given.

Powell sold 167 head to Aull & Myers at ¼ per head.

Blackwood sold 214 head to Pancoast at 4,06 per head; same to same 139 at $2 per head.

Hedges & Taylor sold 171 to A R Black at 4.

Brinkley to Pearce 222 and Hoagland to Wilson & Heart, 190—prices not given.

McCracken to Pearce 217 head at 3½.

HOGS.

The Hog market is firm and fairly active, with a demand fully up to the supply, and prices for prime heavy averages have been, and are still well maintained, ranging from $10,50 to $11 per cwt., gross. Light Hogs may be quoted at $9 to $9,50.

Singer & Imhoff bought 357 choice Chicago Hogs from Tilden at 11cts; 64 from Harp at 9—common.

Peters sold 216 to Gilchreist & Co., at 11cts; W Hedges sold 34 extra to same buyer at 11 cts; 19 from Crouse, E Co., at 10.80.

Rodamer sold 119 to Keys, to go to Baltimore, at 10¼.

Holmes, Lafferty & Co., sold 27 to W Hedges at 9; 44 to Crouse, Emerick & Co., at 9,45.

Poles sold 74 to W Hedges at 9,50; and W Hugh sold 61 to same buyer at 9,40.

Crouse, Emerick & Co., sold 140 head to Peterton at——

Casselman sold 19 head to Orr & Williams at 9.

Lard quiet at 18¾a19c for fair to prime steam. Whisky quiet and unchanged.

Financial Matters in New York.

Gold Closed at 144⅞.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 28, 1865.

MONEY AND GOLD.

Money is very easy at 3@5e on call but probably early resumption of shipments of currency to the west is likely soon to harden the market; prime discounts at 6½@7 when the failure of an old estabiished Sitka house in the dry goods trade was announced. Sterling dull and heavy at 18¾@19 for prime Commercial bills, and scarce and even lower rates were anticipated should the firmness in Gold continue. Gold opened at 145¼ and declined to 144⅝ and advanced to 145¼ and closed at 144¾@144⅞. The steady drain into the Treasury for Customs begins to tell on rates on loans. The weakness of exchange however checks operations for a rise.

GOVERNMENTS

Governments are active and a shade firmer; '62's are scarce, and the market having been oversold in anticipation of return of bonds from Europe are considerably higher, sales as high as 115. Closing quotations on Coupons 1881, 114¼@138; do. 1862, 114½@114¾; do. 1864, 109¾@110; do. 1865, 111¾@111½; new, 108⅝@108¾, do. 1867, 108¼@108¾; do. 1868, 108¼@108½; 10-40s, 108¼@108⅝.

BORDER STATE BONDS.

State Bonds are firmer Missouri, 92⅝; Old Tennessee, 64; New do. 63@63¼; Old North Carolina, 72@73; New do. 77; Old Virginia, 53@55; New do, 54.

STOCKS.

The stock market opened dull and weak, and closed strong. The feature of the day was Michigan Southern which advanced 2 per cent. on a rumor of an early consolidation with the Cleveland and Toledo Railroad; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and St. Paul are higher but not active; New York Central is quiet and steady; Erie is dull and heavy; Express shares steady except Wells & Fargo which is depressed by the Indian troubles.

5:30 PRICES: Canton, 44½@47; Cumberland, 31 asked; Wells Express, 24¾@25½; American, 40¾@41; Adams, 48@48¾; United States 40½@42; Merchants, 21¾@21½; Quicksilver, 20½@21; Pacific Mail, 101¾@101½; Western Union Telegraph, 34@34¼; New York Central, 125½@125¾; Erie, 47½@47¾; do. preferred, 70@71; Hudson, 135@135¾; Reading, 91@91½; Ohio and Mississippi, 29¾@29¼; Wabash, 53½@53¾; do preferred, 72; St. Paul, 76¾@77; do. preferred, 83¼@83¾; Michigan Central, 118½@119; Michigan Southern, 85½@85¾; Illinois Central, 143@14c; Pittsburgh, 86¼@86¾; Toledo, 110¼@110½; Rock Island, 101½@101¾; Northwestern, 83¼@83½; do. preferred, 83@83¼; Fort Wayne, 108¼@108¾; Hartford and Erie, 21¾@22¼; Terre Haute, 44; preferred, 22¾@23; Terre Haute, 41@42; preferred, 13; Ashtabula, 97¾; Columbus, Cincinnati & Indiana, 81.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, August 28.—Cattle dull; sales of butchers stock at $4,25a5,00. Hogs less active at 10a15c. lower; sales at $9,65a10,65.

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 28.—The Dry Goods market partakes of the increased activity, and where any concession is yielded buyers take hold with more alacrity, although as a general thing they buy with great circumspection. It has become apparent, however, that goods are not in excessive stock, and many articles have become so scarce in woolens as to justify a slight advance in prices, especially in woolen Shawls, which are worth $3,75a4,00. Fine Woolens adapted to men's wear are scarce and firm; low and medium grades are less sought for, and bring poor prices. Cotton Goods begin to move more freely, especially Prints, many styles of which have been reduced to 1 shilling, but they may be higher to-morrow. The whole secret of the matter is jobbers want to break the price of Prints so as to buy in a supply and then put up prices at once; a country dealer, therefore, ought to change his prices on that account, for the break cannot be permanent. Trade is as healthy as could be expected. Heavy Brown Sheetings steady at from 16 to 17½c, both being extreme prices.

Louisville Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, August 22.—Receipt of Tobacco light; sales 33 hogsheads lugs and common leaf at 7¼a7½; Hart county 18½. Flour: superfine $6,75a7,00. Wheat $2,00. Corn 86a90. Oats 45a48. Rye $1,30a1,35. RIVER NEWS.

—Capt. John H. Hare left Cincinnati on Wednesday last to look after the Glendale, now laid up at St. Louis.

—The Maggie Hays, for New Orleans, and America, for Memphis, were to have left Cincinnati on Thursday.

—It is understood at Louisville that Captain Whitman, of New Albany, is negotiating for the purchase of the steamer Mollie Gratz. She is held at $4,000, cash.

—Steamboat bar-keepers, in addition to the usual bar license, are required to take out a special Government license for the sale of cigars and tobacco. The additional license is $5 per annum, making the bar and tobacco license $30 per annum. The tobacco license law took effect on the 20th of last July.

—The Lepi Leoti has arrived at St. Louis from Fort Benton, having been 25 days on the trip. She reports three feet water at Doniphan's Rapids, and about the same all the way down to Omaha. She brought $60,000 in treasure, and seven tuns of quartz. The latter is to be shipped to New York.

—A St. Louis telegram, under date of Wednesday, says: Lizzie Gill, for New Orleans; Girard Allen, for Omaha; Evening Star, for the Missouri, and the regular packets for the North. The City of Alton leaves to-day for Memphis, the David Watt, for Tennessee river, and the Rubicon, for Vicksburg. The river is slowly receding, with six and a half feet to Cairo. Large boats in the New Orleans trade will soon have to begin towing to enable them to carry out anything like a paying trip.

—The Cincinnati Enquirer, is responsible for the following: A captain of a well-known New Orleans and Red River packet, sojourning for a brief period in the city, was boasting to a knot of friends on 'Change yesterday of the superior advantages which Southern steamboatmen had over those running boats up here. "Why," said he, "the barber on my boat is the State Senator from the Parish in which I live, and two of the berthmakers of the boat are Representatives in the Legislature from the same Parish." This, he assured those who heard him, was not said to give a false and exaggerated idea of the state of things in the South, but was the literal truth.

—Steven Stackey, of New Albany, has invented a precipitator and feed-water heater. The Commercial describes it in full. We give a few paragraphs: It not only heats the water to the same degree of heat as the water in the boiler, thereby preventing suction, expansion and contraction, so fatal to the boiler, but also clears the water of all impurities of every sort. It does away with the forward mud-drum, and reduces the size of the stand-drum to ten or twelve inches. It relieves the engineer from the dirty, tedious job of cleaning boilers. It is so constructed that it can be cleaned while under way. It is easier cleaned when steam is up than when lying by. The heater is placed on top of the boilers, thereby taking up as little room as a twenty-inch steam drawer. It is the opinion of the leading men in this city that it will be impossible to explode or collapse any boiler where this heater is used and the governor valve properly adjusted, unless there is want of water or defective workmanship.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 144⅞.

THE breach is widening in the Democratic ranks. The Copperheads are delighted with BLAIR, while the old Conservative Democrats are fast coming over to GRANT and COLFAX.

WE PRINT on our seventh page to-day another very interesting lotter from Rev. JOSEPH KING, of Allegheny city, now in Europe. These letters fully sustain our correspondent's high literary reputation, and his keen powers of observation.

EAST of the Alleghenies the Republicans are doing yeoman service in the cause, and everything looks hopeful. We say to our friends in the East, do your duty at the polls in October and the West will respond with all the enthusiasm which marked the days of yore.

GENERAL ROSECRANS must feel heartily ashamed of himself for the part he played in the late rebel conclave at White Sulphur Springs, Virginia. A man who has won his laurels on the field of battle in the cause of the Union, should not permit the old enemy in time of peace to seduce him from the path of duty. The crafty ROSECRANS has been tricked, and we dare say feels like donning sack-cloth and ashes.

MUCH DISSATISFACTION exists amongst the subjects of BRIGHAM YOUNG, and desertions are quite frequent. Mormonism is slowly but surely approaching its end. The snorting iron horse will soon penetrate his way into the heart of the capital of sin and iniquity, and will not be long in accomplishing the overthrow of the immoral system by empeopling the country thereabouts with a new class of citizens. Slavery rests quietly in the grave of the past; Mormonism, a twin relic of barbarism, hastens on to the same destiny.

WHEN the government proposed ornamenting the currency of the country with the medallion portraits of living public men, we took grounds against the inauguration of the practice. It is all very well to honor those who went before us and left a finished record behind, by placing their portraits on the National currency, but in this world, the man who is living to-day a saint, may die tomorrow a sinner. The great mistake made in illuminating the greenbacks and fractional notes with such men's portraits as Chase and Fessenden is now apparent to those who sought do homage to their popularity, so much so, that petitions were presented to Congress for the destruction of the plates in order that those recreants to the principles which once made them popular with the people might no longer live in picture money notoriety. The practice is wrong, and if we have any more currency put forward in the future, we hope it will be discarded. There are plenty of good dead men who can never grow unpopular with the masses whose patriotism with good taste may be commemorated in this way, but it is an honor which should be awarded no living man.

BIRMINGHAM TO-NIGHT.

There will be a grand rally of the friends of GRANT and COLFAX, at the Market Square, in Birmingham, to-night. Colonel POORMAN, of St. Clairsville, Ohio, an able and eloquent speaker, with others, will address the meeting. Let there be a full turn-out of all our friends. The Colonel's speech will well repay every citizen who hears it.

HON. JOHN SHERMAN.

This distinguished Senator will speak on Monday, September 8th, either in Pittsburgh or Allegheny City, as may hereafter be determined; at some point hereafter to be fixed in the Twenty-first District, on the 9th; at Philadelphia on the 10th; at Easton on the 11th, and at Harrisburg on the 12th. At all these points he will have very large audiences.

"SEYMOUR, BLAIR AND BLACKMORE!"

"Why don't you arrest that man who is attempting to provoke a breach of the peace?" asked a citizen of a policeman, when, last Monday afternoon, an intoxicated "mudlark" was parading up and down Fifth street, near the corner of Smithfield, filling the air with yells for SEYMOUR, BLAIR and BLACKMORE," and occasionally pausing, opposite the GAZETTE windows, to belch out the most abusive and profane obscenity against the Republicans. "Why don't some of you fellows knock him down?" was the reply of the policeman to the citizen's appeal, and the rowdy was suffered to annoy the whole neighborhood and the passers by, ladies and all, for nearly an hour.

Stones were thrown at several points, at our torch light processions the same evening, and all over the city there were indications of a riotous disposition to interrupt the Republican proceedings, for which there seemed no police prevention, and no punishment since. Only at the Monongahela House, at a later hour, did the Mayor's police exhibit the proper vigilance and zeal in the discharge of their duty. For that, and for the police escort which preceded the procession, we shall give due credit to that functionary. But elsewhere, as in the other instances cited, we are unable to commend the Mayor's determination and ability to maintain order.

When Republicans are invited to sign a "call" upon the Mayor to be a candidate for re-election in this Republican and Union-loving city, we suggest to them to consider that it is an invitation to a political partnership with the black-guards who are allowed to disturb Republican meetings, whose "rebel yell" for "SEYMOUR, BLAIR and BLACKMORE," and whose shocking oaths and foul obscenity made the streets last Monday impassable for modest women. Very few good Republican citizens will train in that crowd! Our friends will not accept the advice of Mayor BLACKMORE'S police, to take the law into their own hands, until their forbearance, under unprovoked, unchecked and unpunished insults, ceases to be a virtue. Then, they will not find it difficult to protect themselves. But, first, they invoke that protection which the laws, faithfully and capably administered, owe to all citizens, when lawfully assembled.

WHO ARE THE BONDHOLDERS!

Mr. JAY COOKE, who had charge of the sales of bonds, says:

Out of 3,000,000 subscribers to our various public loans, over nine-tenths are of the class called the people. The West took $320 000,000 of the $830,000,000 7-30 loans, and, I doubt not, holds a large portion of it now, and this is as large a proportion as could be expected from a new and enterprising region where money always commands higher rates than at the seaboard. Ohio alone took over $90,000,000, and Illinois over $70,000,000. The West was also a large taker of the 5-20 and other loans. I can substantiate these facts, for I have taken the trouble to analyze each day's subscriptions with the above result.

We give below a statement of the subscriptions to the seven-thirties, made up from the actual sales:

Number of bonds of $100	1,474,940
Number of bonds of $50	962,580
Number of bonds of $500	436,792
Number of bonds of $1,000	370,376
Number of bonds of $5,000	8,821

What is true of these bonds is probably true in a greater degree as to the five-twenties. The figures thus show that the sales were made—"mainly to men of limited means—to farmers, laborers, mechanics, widows, trustees and others—in small sums as suited their convenience to buy. Three millions of bonds of small denominations went into the hands of small holders, and less than four hundred thousand into the hands of those who could buy one thousand dollars or upwards." And all these who thus contributed their mites to the support of the Union are denounced as "bloated bond-holders" by the Copperhead enemies of the public credit.

AMONG the very useful documents which have been circulated by the Republican Congressional Committee, since the opening of the canvass, none is found to be more effective than their "Life and Services of General GRANT." This pamphlet, of 160 pages, affords an admirable view of the public career, both military and civil, of our illustrious candidate. Many new and important facts are presented, illustrative of his opposition to the policy of the President and of his approval of the Congressional plan of reconstruction. The "Life," is afforded at a very low price, only $20 per hundred, and should be largely circulated by local committees. With all the other publications by the Congressional Committee, it may be had on application to T. L. TULLOCK, Secretary, at Washington.

THE Memphis Post, announcing the death of a man who "made the first speech in Memphis made by a pretended colored Democrat," states that in his last hours he admitted to his clergyman that "he was always Radical at heart, always secretly voted that ticket, that he knew as well as any one that no colored man who loved his people could be anything else, and that he only pretended his Democracy to save himself from punishment" for having killed another colored man a year or two ago. It is probable that many of the "colored Democrats" of the South are, as the deceased was, at heart nothing but "Radical niggers" still.

THE DISTURBANCE OF MEETINGS.

The recent and systematic insults and outrages perpetrated upon Republican meetings, in the city and suburban boroughs, deserve the careful consideration of good citizens of both parties. To our Democratic neighbors, we suggest the propriety of taking immediate steps to prevent the repetition of these outrages; they owe it to themselves, to good citizenship and to the public peace. To our Republican friends, we say, that it is the duty of the municipal authorities to afford them complete protection when lawfully assembled, and that, when meetings are to be held, they should notify the authorities thereof. Only after the sworn officers of the peace shall have shown themselves derelict, will it be proper for the citizens to apply the needed remedy themselves. And then, they all know how to do it. To all, we say: Go to any meetings you wish, whether of your own or of the other party; listen quietly; disturb no one and go away when you have heard enough. The right of orderly free speech is guaranteed to every citizen, while no man has any excuse for attending a meeting only to disturb it, or to insult or outrage either the speaker or the crowd. If you don't like what is said, you are not compelled to stay and hear it; go off about your own business, and that will be the end of it. Your opponents have the same rights as yourself, and neither can be justified in any unlawful interference with the other. It is the duty of officers to protect you both, and you should insist upon their doing it. Anything like rowdyism will result badly in the long run, and should be put down at once.

OUR neighbor of the Post desires to know what the President and Secretary of the Treasury (both of whom support SEYMOUR and BLAIR) are doing for the six per cents of 1848, now matured. The Post should apply to its friends at Washington for the official information. In the meantime, we learn from a correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer, a Democratic journal, that "it is positively true" that this Democratic Secretary of the Treasury has recently redeemed a fraudulent twelve per cent. gold note, purporting to be issued under Mr. BUCHANAN'S financiering, although the subordinate officers in the Treasury had long since declared it to be a counterfeit. Will not the Post include that matter also in its enquiries?

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

We glean from the statistical report, of the condition of the United Presbyterian Church, for the year ending May, 1868, that the aggregate membership of the Church is sixty-five thousand six hundred and twelve, an increase over the previous year of about eight thousand, by certificate and on profession. During the year there have been forty-seven hundred and thirty-five deaths and removals. The number of baptisms, adults and infants, is a shade above forty-six hundred. Total contributions, to pastors and supplies, and general objects, reach seven hundred and twenty-nine thousand six hundred and thirty-nine dollars. The average salary of pastors is eight hundred and sixty-three dollars and sixty-nine cents, and the average contributions per members, is eleven dollars and twelve cents.

According to the Journal and Messenger, Baptist paper, the Baptist Church is divisible into High Church and Low Church Baptists. High Church Baptists hold that immersion alone is Baptism, that to be valid, it must be administered by a properly constituted administrator—himself an immersed man, and ordained by the true Church. Hence they hold that Immersion by unimmersed administrators is not valid baptism. The editor of the Journal and Messenger thinks this without divine warrant.

The Roman Catholic Church in the Arch diocese of New York has recently contributed for the Pope, twenty-seven thousand three hundred and sixty-one dollars thirty cents. It is said other departments of the Church have also given largely.

We learn from the Presbyterian Banner that Rev. W. D. Howard, D. D, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of this city, has been restored to health, and will resume his labors next week.

The Allegheny Theological Seminary (O. S.) will open on September 14. The opening address will be delivered by Prof. Wilson. Students who are in need of pecuniary aid for the Seminary Course, can receive it on application to either of the Professors.

The Annual Retreat of the Rev. Clergy of the Pittsburgh Catholic Diocese will commence September 8. All the Secular Clergy, who did not attend last year, are expected to attend, unless they (by just cause) are expempted by writing.

The next session of the Pittsburgh Conference of the Methodist (Protestant) Church, will be held at New Brighton, Pa., on the 2d day of September. Sermons on special topics will be delivered by several ministers. Conference love feast and communion will take place on Friday evening.

The American Churchman hereafter is to be published at Chicago and Milwaukee, instead of the former place. The paper has recently been put on a firm basis with prospects of a brighter career in the future than ever before in its history. The paper is ably edited, and singularly devoted to the interests of the Episcopal Church.

Bishop Tuttle, of Montana, assigns as a reason for declining the Episcopate of the Missouri Diocese, that his youth and inexperience warns him against assuming the responsibility of a field so great and so ripe unto the harvest, and that he believes it is his duty to remain where the Church has called him.

In view of the time for taking up in the various Presbyterian Churches, the collection for the support of disabled minsters of that Church, being near at hand, the officers in charge of that Fund have published some interesting facts in regard to the workings of the Society, from which we learn that in 1852, when the first records were made, there were only applications for aid during that year from two ministers and six widows. The whole amount contributed for distribution was six hundred and fifty dollars. Within the year, ending April 20th, 1868, fifty-eight ministers, sixty-seven widows, and eleven families of orphans have been assisted, among whom have been distributed twenty-six thousand one hundred and ninety-one dollars. An appeal is made to the churches for an increased liberality so as to enable the trustees in charge of the Fund to supply the applicants for aid.

The Universe of Philadelphia, said to be the oldest Catholic paper in the United States, unlike the dignified Catholic of this city, devotes considerable space to advocating the Democratic ticket in a style of extravagant language which surely cannot be palatable to Republican members of the Church. The paper, however, is progressive and is edited with considerable tact and ability. Some of its editorials are rich and racy. Sometimes the Universe is guilty of publishing paragraphs that some staid journals would denominate the "hi-falutin" style; instance the following paragraph. Speaking of the Roman Catholic College in Georgetown, District of Columbia, an excellent high toned institution, it says: "There are men in Georgetown who can write Latin as well as Livy, Greek whorthy of Athens, Italian as smoothly as Cardinal Bembo, French as polished as Rousseau, Spanish as superbly as Mariano, German like Schlegel, Portuguese as pure as Lisbon ever heard, and English as freely and elegantly as mortal ever used that tongue; and every year finds students in it who are worthy of their Professors. Certainly, it is the Queen College of America.

Since the last report to the Triennial General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, the Diocese of Pennsylvania have received seventy-six hundred and fifty-two new accessions to the Church. During the same period, there have been fifty-five hundred and forty-four confirmations, and ten thousand five hundred and fifty-eight baptisms.

We have already alluded to the sentiments expressed by Jewish orators at the laying of a corner stone of a Synagogue, and the gathering of the Jewish Sons of the Covenant, that the coming of the Messiah is an obselete idea. The Israelite, of Cincinnati, advances a new sentiment, which is significant of the changes going on among the Jews, of certain views which heretofore were rigidly and doggedly taught among them, namely, that it does not believe in "the final restoration of the tribes" to Jerusalem. It says "the United States of America is the New Jerusalem; this the land of promise; and those who establish and maintain its supremacy and integrity are the apostles, the annointed Messiahs of Israel."

The Congregational Quarterly for July reports the organization of thirty-eight new Congregational churches for three months previous. Twenty-four of these are at the West, seven are in New England, and two in California.

Rev. David E. Palmer, of the Presbyterian Church, at Timber Ridge, Tennessee, died suddenly in the pulpit. He was suddenly stricken down while preaching. He realized doubtless the glorious truth: "sudden death—sudden glory." How important to be ready for death!

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

EDITORS GAZETTE—The editor of the Post says that "we can solemnly promise (Grow,) that no man who votes for Seymour will make war if Seymour is elected, and that the colored Democrats of the South who vote for Seymonr will, we have no doubt, sign a paper promising to make no war whether they elect their candidate or not; (Mr. Grow will remember that the colored Democrats of the South can read and write, every one of them.") That is a great deal more than can be said of a large number of the unterrified who live in Pennsylvania. For instance: When G. W. Woodward received seventy-seven votes in the First ward, a meeting of the unterrified was held night after night in Splane's building, corner of Smithfield and Fifth streets, to investigate the matter. Out of some sixty-seven of the unterrified who swore that they believed that they voted for Woodward, some sixty could neither read nor write. What about the colored Republicans? Can they read or write? It is very strange how they come to admire the colored man! It used to be, "the ignorant, degraded nigger," who had no more rights then a hog or a mule. Just so long as there is a chance for them to secure the colored vote in the South, so long will they stick to him. They say that if Seymour is elected, there will be nobody to make war except the Radicals themselves, led on by Grow and Negley. The Radicals, as the rebels and Copperheads of the North call them, did not inaugurate the war. It was conceived and carried on by the Democratic party, put down by the Republican party with powder and ball, and will be put down again at the ballot box in November.

AN OLD DEMOCRAT, BUT NO LONGER SO.

THE advent of Jeff. Davis in England furnished the subject for several "articles" in the London papers. The London Herald was especially fervent. It said: "Whenever he may show himself among Englishmen, Mr. Davis is sure to be welcomed with every mark of esteem and admiration. The heroes of an unfortunate cause are always popular with us, especially when they have struggled and suffered on behalf of a people battling for national independence." Then, after instituting a parallel between Mr. Davis and Kossuth, it remarked that "no man could appeal more strongly to English sympathizers than Mr. Jefferson Davis." "To us, South and North are now parts of one American Union, and Mr. Davis is a man honored and esteemed throughout one-half of that Union, as few unsuccessful leaders have ever been honored by those whom they conducted to defeat and ruin. We welcome not the enemy of the United States, but the chief of the Southern people." The Star is less gushing, taking an opposite view of the matter. It rebukes the eulogists of Mr. Davis and those who cheered him at Liverpool, and says: 'At a time like the present, when the coldness that lately existed between this country and the United States is in a fair way of giving place to a more kindly feeling, we can conceive of no more shameful insult to a great nation than a cheer in honor of a person in Mr. Davis's position, unless it is the assurance which follows the words we have quoted, to the effect that the cheers are not to be taken as 'a demonstration of hostility to the present Government of the United States.' We have blundered once with our precious 'sympathies,' for heaven's sake let us not blunder a second time."

MORTGAGES.

Same day thirteen mortgages were filed.

Meeting of the City Executive Committee.

A meeting of the City Republican Executive Committee was held in the Common Council Chamber yesterday afternoon at three o'clock.

The meeting was called to order by the Vice President, Alderman Joseph A. Butler. The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

Mr Craig called for the report of the Finance Committee.

Mr. Gilmore stated that he had no definite report to make, but the financial affairs of the Committee were progressing, and that there would be sufficient funds in the treasury to meet the demands upon it.

On motion of Mr. Craig, the Secretary was authorized to advertise the meetings of the Committee in the morning Republican papers on the morning preceding the meeting.

On motion of Dr. Gilmore, it was resolved to hold the regular meetings of the Committee on the second Monday of every month.

Mr. Craig moved that a Committee of three be appointed to superintend the printing of tickets for the city election.

The motion was adopted and the Chair appointed Messrs. Craig, Gilmore and Jones the Committee.

On motion adjourned.

Fatal Accident—Coroner's Inquest.

A serious accident occurred at Gray & Bell's coal railway, in Temperanceville, on Thursday evening, which resulted in the death of Dennis Lane, aged four years, son of Dennis Lane, who resides on the plank road, Temperanceville. The railway referred to passes near Lane's house, and on Thursday evening a car had been left standing on the road, a short distance from the house. About six o'clock a number of children, among whom was the little boy named, got into the car and several larger children were pushing it along the track. When immediately opposite Lane's house the little boy fell out in front of the car, which run upon him, inflicting injuries which caused his death. He lived until about half-past two o'clock yesterday morning, and seemed to suffer intensely. The injuries appeared to be internal, as no bones were broken, and hemorrhage continued from the time he was injured until he expired. Coroner Clawson was notified and held an inquest on the body, the jury returning a verdict of accidental death.

IS YOUR DISEASE RHEUMATISM?

Many persons, supposing they are suffering from this disease, have applied Liniments, Plasters and other Rheumatic Remedies without obtaining any relief, when in fact the cause of pain is a derangement of the Kidneys. These are small organs, but very important, and any obstruction or interference with its functions are indicated by pain in the back and loins, languor and weakness, difficulty in avoiding and unnatural color of the urine. A Diuretic should t once be resorted to.

DR. SARGENT'S

Liuretic or Backache Pills

Can be relied on for these purposes: they have a direct influence on the cells of the kidneys, assists nature in relieving them of any foreign particles, and mulates them to a healthy and vigorous action

Dr. Sargent's Backache Pills

Contain nothing injurious, being composed of entirely vegetable remedies; they do not sicken nor gripe—on the contrary they act as a gentle tonic and restores tone to the system, They are recommended by all who who have tried them.

THE BODY RENEWED.

According to Physiologists, the human body is renewed once in seven years. Every day, every hour, every moment, the flesh, the cartilage, bone and muscle of the frame are wasting away, and being imperceptibly replaced by new material. Health depends upon the nature of that material, and whether it shall be pure or diseased, full of vitality and elasticity, or feeble and flaccid, depends mainly upon the action of the stomach. In warm weather the waste of the system is very rapid, and if it is not as rapidly repaired by the great sustaining organ, the consequence is debility, emaciation and decay. It is, therefore, of paramount importance that the stomach be kept in a vigorous condition at this trying season, and the safest, surest and best tonic that can be employed for that purpose is HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. This incomparable vegetable stomachic gives unwonted energy to the digestive powers, promotes the conversion of the food into healthful blood, which is, so to speak, the raw material of all the solid portions of the body, and thereby puts the system in the best possible state of defence against epidemic or other diseases. The strong require it to keep up their strength; the weak, to re-invigorate them. It consists of the purest of all diffusive stimulants, charged with the juices and extracts of the most genial roots and herbs, and is a permanent restorative—not a mere temporary excitant. It acts simultaneously upon the stomach, the bowels and the liver, and is the best known remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, costiveness and general debility.

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE EAR.

In observations and notes taken by Dr. KEYSER, of this city, on the various diseases of the ear, he says that nine out of ten cases could be cured in their incipiency if application were made to some responsible and competent aural surgeon. The Doctor quotes from the opinion of Wilde, a well known aural surgeon, who says: "I fear not to reiterate the assertion which I made on several former occasions, that if the disease of the ear were as well studied or understood by the generality of practitioners, and as early attended to as those of the eye, it would be found that they were just as much within the pale of scientific treatment. * * Deafness is so common and so distressing an infirmity, and when of long standing so incurable, that we cannot too strongly urge all medical practitioners to make themselves familiar with the treatment of the diseases of the ear."

The Doctor says that nearly all annoying Discharges, Buzzings and Morbid Growths peculiar to the organ of the hearing, some of which had lingered through a score or two of years, can be cured or ameliorated by proper treatment.

THE New York corespondent of the Kreuz-Zeitung says that none of the Democratic managers in New York have a particle of confidence in the prospects of the Seymour and Blair ticket. He groans exceedingly over it, and thinks the country has gone to the devil. He says the conservative Republicans are unreliable and treacherous to the core, and that only Doolittle and a few others are honorable enough to stick to the Democracy. In conclusion he bestows a number of choice imprecations on the head of Mr. Pendleton, whom he holds responsible for the desperate predicament of the Democratic cause.

☞THE CITIZENS CANDIDATE

FOR COUNCIL, SECOND WARD.

Mr. BERNARD GRAY has been called upon to run as an Independent Candidate for Common Council in the Second Ward, Allegheny, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. DUNHAM. Last night the Democrats of the Second ward held a meeting, but did not nominate a candidate, endorsing Mr. GRAY as a gentleman, fresh from the people, not identified with politics, and largely interested in the real estate interests of Allegheny, and in every way a suitable person for the office.

NOTICES.

☞ELECTION PROCLAMATION.

RESOLVED, That the Mayor be and is hereby instructed to issue a Proclamation for the election of

One Member for Common Council

FROM THE SECOND WARD,

To fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of W. H. DUNHAM, member from that Ward.

ALSO, for the election of

One Member for Common Council

FROM THE SEVENTH WARD,

To fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of HENRY GEYER, member from that ward.

In accordance with the foregoing resolution, the voters in said Wards will meet at the usual time and place of holding elections,

On TUESDAY, the First Day of September, 1868,

And elect one person in each of the said Wards to serve as Common Councilmen for the balance of the year 1868.

SIMON DRUM, Mayor.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, August 28, 1868.

The gold market keeps firm at from 144⅞ to 145¼; both cliques abstain from moving in any direction, but gold has been less plenty, and the turn of the market seems to favor the bulls, although there is nothing now that could advance gold but the movements of a set of determined speculators. Exchange is still dull, and is selling one per cent. below the ordinary rates.

Government bonds are strong, and higher prices are looked for. The large short sales made prior to the decline have compelled operators to buy again before they could cover at low rates, and now are losers by the transaction. The money market remains easy, contrary to all expectations, and the facilities offered for carrying bonds are so great on an easy money market that the operators for a rise generally make the most out of the market.

Stocks are very firmly held except Erie which is dull and lower. The cliques are again buying and nobody knows how high the market may go; an easy money market may advance prices, and cause a double loss to the street and the operator of the West.

Express stocks are firm and advancing. Business quiet.

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, August 28, 1868.

The metal market has been very quiet this week, the sales, in the aggregate, being comparatively small, while, so far as prices are concerned, there are no important changes. The supply, especially of desirable brands, is very much reduced, but as is nearly always the case at this particular season of the year, the demand, also, is light.

PITTSBURGH WOOL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBUGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, August 28, 1868.

During the past week the Wool market has been characterized by great activity, and the bulk of the fine Wools of Pennsylvania and West Virginia have been good. A large portion of the crop in this section was bought at 40 to 43c at the outset; since which time nearly all the desirable clips have been taken at 43, 44 to 45c, and in some cases for choice Wools, even higher prices have been paid. At this time some large clips of choice Wool are held by the growers at 50c, while other clips, that buyers past by, and would not pay over 40c, with an abatement for heavy Wools, are held at 45c.

Since Wools have advanced to the present prices, buyers are more careful about taking heavy and unmerchantable lots, and will not buy them unless all the heavy Wools are thrown out with the proper deduction. The markets in the east have been active of late, but the advance in prices has not kept pace with the advance in the country districts. The following are the present prices:

Common Fleece	35c
¼ blood	37c
⅓ blood	40c
⅜ blood	43c
Full blood	45c
Tub-washed	40c

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, August 28, 1868.

The general markets were rather quiet and dull to-day, and devoid of any new or important features worthy of special notice. The receipts of Grain and produce generally are weak and drooping.

BUTTER—Is firm and in steady demand, with sales of prime to choice at 35 to 37.

EGGS—In fair demand and steady, with sales of fresh packed at 18.

CHEESE—Is reported quiet and unchanged; sales of Western Reserve and Hamburg at 14 to 15c; Factory at 16 to 17c; Goshen at 18 and Sweitzer at 20.

SEEDS—Sales of Flaxseed at $2,25 and Timothy Seed at $3,25 to $3,50. Cloverseed is nominal at $7,50 to $8.

APPLES—Continue to arrive freely and with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, the market is dull at $2 to $3,50; for fair to choice.

GRAIN—Winter Wheat continues to arrive freely and while the mills are well supplied, they continue to take all that offers at $2,10 to $2,12 for prime Red—Choice at $2,15. Oats in good supply with sales on track at 60 to 62, and in store at 64 to 65. Rye is scarce and in fair demand at $1,35. Corn is quiet and unchanged at $1,06 to $1,12, for mixed to prime Yellow. Barley is nominal at $1,75 to $1,80.

POTATOES—Steady but unchanged at $3,50 to $4 per bbl, as to quality.

SALT—Is dull and unchanged at $1,75 to $1,80 to the trade, and $2 for small lots in store.

LARD OIL—Unchanged at $1,20 for No. 2, and $1,50 for No. 1.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet but steady, with regular sales at 14 to 14¼c for Shoulders; 16¼ to 16¾c for Ribbed, and 18½ to 18¾c for Clear Sides, and 22 to 22½c for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is still quoted at 19½c to 20c for prime kettle rendered. Mess Pork, $30,50 to $31.

FLOUR—The city mills report a good local demand for Flour, but there is little or no inquiry for shipment. We continue to quote at $11,30, in bbls, and $11, in sacks, for White Wheat, and $10,80, in barrels, and $10,50, in sacks, for Red Wheat. Old Spring Wheat Flour is quoted at $10,50 to $10,75; new do at $10 to $10,25, and Winter Wheat at $11 to $11,25. Rye Flour, $9,25, for old.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTEE, FRIDAY, August 28, 1868.

CRUDE—The Crude market was fairly active to-day, though, in a very complicated condition; one party thought that there wasa little firmer feeling than there was yesterday, while another was as equally confident that the bottom had not yet been touched. The sales, however, were unusually large, aggregating between thirteen and fourteen thousand barrels, as follows: 4,000 bbls, to be delivered between January and July, 1869, seller's option, at 10c; 3,000, 2,000 and 1,000, to be delivered between now and April 1st, 1869, seller's option, at 10c; 1,000 for October at 11⅝; 1,000, all the year, seller's option, at 11c; 1,000 for October at $4,40, delivered on board cars at Venango City; 160 bbls, immediate, at 12c, and 150 do at 11½c. At the close, we heard of 11½c having been offered for September and October.

REFINED—The market for refined was also more active and somewhat excited, but prices are no better; indeed, it was reported that there were more sellers than buyers at quotations. Sale of 500 each for September and October and November at 31; 2,500, in three lots, for the last half of September at 31; and 500 for October at 31. We also heard it reported that there had been a sale of a "line" for September October and November, at 30½. From the above it will be seen that the market remains about where it left off late on Thursday evening, though it is still considerably demoralized, and operators generally are anxiously awaiting future developments.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

LETTERS FROM EUROPE---NO. 7.

BY JOSEPH KING.

August, 1868.

The evening of Saturday, August 8th, found us at Bonn, in the kingdom of Prussia, a city containing a population of twenty thousand, and situated on the right bank of the Rhine, about thirty miles above Cologne. The city has in itself nothing of peculiar interest, and yet it is known throughout the civilized world as being the seat of one of the celebrated European Universities. The ancient city of Bonn was of small dimensions, as is evidenced from the walls which surrounded it. These walls are of no use now; first, because they are not necessary. Cities within the same kingdom nor without do not prey upon, and fight with one another, as they did formerly. Our race has made progress in civilization. One city is now willing to let another prosper and live in peace. Even were the walls which now surround European cities necessary for protection and self defence, they would not long stand the battering of the modern implements of war. The streets of the older portions of Bonn, like most other cities in the old world are very narrow and crooked—some of them not more than ten or twelve feet wide, and so angular, and make such frequent turns, that oftentimes one can see but a few feet ahead. The city is situated on a flat, but the suburbs are singularly beautiful. From our hotel window (fourth story) the eye rests on grand hills on the right, and across the Rhine, and right opposite the castle of Rolandseck, which is two miles above the city, are the Seven Mountains, each of which is over one thousand feet high, and which are so famous in history, and concerning which many legends have been written.

Had we reached Bonn a few days sooner we would have seen, we were told, one of the grandest Festivals and Processions there ever have been in Prussia. It was the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the University, and students, professors and eminent men from all parts of Europe were present. The King and Queen of Prussia were here; also, our own Mr. Bancroft, who is now the United States Minister at Berlin, and upon whom was conferred, while here, by the University, the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. Mr. Bancroft, I was told, was admitted to a seat on the platform in the midst of Kings, Royal personages and Professors of world-wide celebrity, and who, according to the European custom, were attired in the most costly and glittering paraphernalia; but he was dressed in a plain black suit with a single rose in the button hole of his coat.

The University of Bonn has one thousand students, two hundred and fifty of whom are in the theological department, and of the theological students two hundred are Roman Catholic, and fifty Protestant. (The city itself is two-thirds Catholic.) There is a double theological faculty—a faculty for the Protestant students and a faculty for the Catholic students. The Professors are appointed by the King of Prussia, who though a Protestant, is favorable to his many Catholic subjects, and of Professors there are eighty. The library of the University contains three hundred thousand volumes, and with it are connected valuable art and scientific museums. Dr. Lange who is known to the whole religious world as the editor (and author of some of the volumes) of a most expansive and excellent commentary, "critical, exegetical and homilitical," resides here, and is principal Professor in the Protestant Evangelical Theological Department of the University. The Doctor preaches but seldom, but when he does his sermons are of a high order; and though a hard student and a profound theologian, he is said to be social and a genial companion, and mingles freely with the student outside of the lecture room. He laughs at the high price per volume in the United States of his justly celebrated commentary. Matthew, for instance, costs five dollars at home; here the whole New Testament, with the exception of Revelations, which has not yet appeared in German, can be bought for a trifle more than that sum.

While at Bonn we made the acquaintance of Rev. Thomas Lawrence, who lived for many years in Allegheny city, whose mother and sisters now live there, and who, after laboring for several years in the ministry of the United Presbyterian church, and serving for a time as Adjutant of the Christian Commission during the war, resolved to prepare himself more fully, for his life work by studying for a year or two, at a European University. Accordingly he came to Bonn ten months since, and is attending the lectures in the theological department of the university. It will gratify his many friends in Allegheny and vicinity to know that he is well, and feels that he is being benefitted by his sojourn here. We found both him and his wife, most kind, courteous and pleasant; and this week, as it is now vacation in the university they go to Geneva to spend some time in acquiring a more thorough knowledge of the French.

Yesterday we enjoyed the rare opportunity of hearing the Bishop of London. On Saturday evening we were told that the Bishop was in the city, and we expected that he would of course preach on Lord's Day. At the appointed hour, in company with Mr. Lawrence and wife, we repaired to the University Chapel, in which the English Church here holds its services. The Service read by the pastor of the church was exceedingly long, so at least it seemed to those not accustomed to such long introductory services. It occupied one hour and thirty-five minutes, and at its close the Bishop ascended into the very high but very small pulpit, and delivered a short but good discourse. His theme was prayer, common prayer, and while he said that the outward form and prescribed rule were necessary, he insisted on the uplifting of the soul and elevation of the heart to God. The sermon was evangelical, sound, and no right thinking man could take exception to a single utterance in it.

His sentences were well composed, and every syllable spoken with distinctness, but there seemed to be a want of energy, of holy energy, of pathos and unction; and the sermon, though good, was not masterly, nor was there a single outburst of genuine eloquence. It was such a sermon as any minister of ordinary culture and piety could have composed. The Bishop of London is not an extraordinary man. His election, indeed, to the bishopric surprised many, and he is reported to be vacillating between high and low churchism. He is not a man of commanding presence. He would not strike you as being much above ordinary ministers in intellect or culture. He is rather above medium height, with hair slightly grey, and parted nearly in the middle, small white hands, and presents an appearance somewhat feminine. There are confirefiations belonging to the Church of England in many of the cities on the continent. They are mostly, I believe, under the bishopric of London, and the Bishop is here attending to his official duties. In the evening we went to hear Rev. Mr. Graham of the Irish Presbyterian Church. He preaches in a small, but commodious chapel to the Presbyterians in Bonn, and last evening had a congregation of about sixty persons. His subject was founded on the words of Christ in John 10c: "I am the door," and he divided it as follows: 1st the nature and moving of the door; 2d, the doctrine, and 3d, the duty. The door means the passage, the doctrine is mediation, and the duty is to enter in through the door without delay for it may soon shut. The sermon was methodically arranged and well delivered. It was here in Bonn yesterday pretty much as it was in Paris one week ago. Business was going on as to-day. Shops and stores were open. Persons were buying and selling. But little respect seems to be paid by either Catholics or Protestants to the first day of the week. Europe greatly needs to be reformed in this particular. She has no conscience in respect to a right observance of the Lord's day. Hotel keepers would rather have Protestant than Catholic servant girls for the reason that the latter will go to meeting on a Sunday but the former care little, if anything, about it, so the people here say. The scenery on the banks of the Rhine begins with Bonn, and extends upward towards its source. We leave this afternoon for points higher up, and hope, in the good providence of God, in a few days, to see the glorious Alps, the "Palaces of nature," as Byron calls them.

CAMP MEETING AT BENTLEYSVILLE.

BENTLEYSVILLE CAMP GROUND, August, 26, 1868.

This Camp ground is situated about half a mile South of the town of Bentleysville, on the lands of Mr. J. W. Stevens.

The grove is beautiful in which the meeting is held. The trees stand thickly, and are tall and straight, and their boughs are so closely interlocked as to form a delightful shade.

The number of tents on the ground is sixty-two. Many of them are large and permanently built. Their holders evidently expect them to be occupied hereafter.

The meeting commenced on last Friday evening, the 21st inst. The first sermon was preached by Rev. T. J. McClure, of the Peters Creek circuit. His theme was an appropriate one—the Setting up of our Banners in the Name of our God. He discussed it earnestly and pathetically, producing a good effect.

Saturday brought reinforcements of both tents and people. At ten o'clock Rev. J. J. Hays, of Latrobe, Pa., discoursed on "The New Birth." In the afternoon Rev. D. A. Pierce, of California, Pa., showed, in a very simple and affective manner, how perfect love casts out fear. At night Rev. J. D. Stiffy, of Redstone, Pa., preached a good sermon on "How shall we escape if we neglect so great Salvation?"

Sabbath morn dawned on the encampment very auspiciously. At an early hour the people began to flow in from all directions. By ten o'clock the multitude was very great, being variously estimated from five to seven thousand.

The eight o'clock hour was occupied with a precious sermon preached by Rev. J. McIntyre, of Beallsville, Pa., on the text, "With Joy shall we draw water out of the wells of Salvation.

At ten o'clock Dr. and Mrs. Palmer, of New York, conducted the services, he performing the preliminary part, and she delivering the discourse. Her theme was sentire sanctification, which she discussed for about one hour. Her voice, though ordinarily good, was yet too feeble to reach more than about one-third of the vast congregation. In view of this and other considerations, very few doubted the propriety of her occupying this important hour. By those who sympathize with her peculiar views the discourse was well received. She and her husband are devoting all their time to the work of Evangelists.

At two o'clock Rev. A. Scott, of Florence, Pa., discoursed on the great work of converting sinners from the error of their way.

At four o'clock Rev. E. Williams showed very plainly how it is that the Sons of God are led by the Spirit of God.

At night J. R. Mills, New Brighton, Pa., preached an excellent discourse from these words: "What then shall I do with Jesus?"

On Monday forenoon Rev. A. L. Petty, presiding Elder of the district, preached; after sermon the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered to a very large number of communicants.

In the afternoon Rev. J. T. Riley preached, and at night Rev. J. L. Deens.

On Tuesday the preaching was done by Revs. J. V. Yarnall, M. H. Kendeg, and W. A. Davidson.

On Wednesday, this morning, by Rev. S. Wakefield, D. D.

The meeting thus far has been largely attended and by the most orderly kind. The weather has been most propitious. It is expected the encampment will be broken up on Friday morning.

HERE are two of the toilettes at the Saratoga ball of Friday night. Miss Fanny Perkins, of Boston, wore a rich white corded poult de soie, long train, the bottom of the skirts cut in deep points and bound with scarlet satin, overdress of scarlet tulle, made eppanier, cut in points, trimmed with point lace and headed with narrow bands of scarlet satin; hair dressed and ornamented with white and scarlet flowers, pearl ornaments. An exquisite scarlet and white fan added to the effect of this toilette. Miss Hattie Barnard, of Providence, R. I., which was the centre of attraction for all, wore a rich white royale armure silk robe sans crinoline, modest train, the bottom cut in points; overskirts of fine India muslin gracefully looped up with satin rosettes; corsage cut low and short sleeves, both trimmed with silk blond lace. Hair simply arranged and ornamented with white flowers. Necklace, bracelets, ear-drops of fine white crystals.

THE explosion of the Globe mill at Cincinnati was heard for miles around. The walls were shattered, the roof turn off, and much of the machinery damaged. The immediate production was something immense in appearance. About a quarter of an acre, more or less, of corrugated iron roofing was twisted into a big knot and thrown into the air. Thousands of panes of glass were shattered, oak beams a foot thick were splintered, iron columns were shivered, brick walls split in many fragments, iron rollers of several tons weight tossed about like mere trifles, sections of the boiler and big chunks of machinery thrown 200 feet in the air, hurled in every direction, to the middle of the river on the south and to Third street on the north. In all this destruction of property but one person was injured and that not fatally. The accident is attributed to carelessness on the part of the night engineer. The total loss is estimated at about $10,000.

—Here are a few personals:—Queen Victoria is enjoying daily exercises on the lake at Lucerne. The Prince, Don Corlos, of Bourbon, has assumed the title of Duke of Madrid. The Duke of Nassau has taken up his residence at Frankfort. Madrid papers announce the death, in that city, of Bonnaire, the well-known performer on the trapeze. He fell from a great height in the course of one of his performances and died immediately after, aged 28. Ernest Beer, who established the Pre Catalan, is dead. Garibaldi's health is fast breaking up. The rheumatism which has greatly tormented him of late years, has within the last six months assumed so severe a form as to render him unable to walk without crutches. He will never be able to head another campaign.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞THE APPETITE FOR

Tobacco Destroyed!

Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed, Tobacco.

One box of ORTON'S PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to destroy the appetite for tobacco in any person, no matter how strong the habit may be, ☞ IF IT FAILS IN ANY CASE THE MONEY WILL BE REFUNDED. It is almost impossible to break off from the use of tobacco by the mere exercise of the will. Something is needed to assist nature in overcoming a habit so firmly rooted; with the help of the preparation there is not the least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that ORTON'S PREPARATION completely destroys the appetite for tobacco and leaves the person as free from any desire for it as before he commenced its use. It is perfectly safe and harmless in all cases. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by tobacco, and through these upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing the poison of tobacco from the system, and thus allaying the unnatural cravings of tobacco.

NO MORE HANKERING FOR TOBACCO AFTER USING ORTON'S PREPARATION! RECOLLECT IT IS WARRANTED. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession:

[From W. P. Heald, Esq., Bangor, Me.]
BANGOR, Me., April 24, 1868.

I hereby certify that I have used tobacco for thirty years past, and for the last fifteen years I have used two pounds per month. I have made attempts to leave off at different times. I have left off one year at a time, but always continued to hanker for it until I used Orton's Preparation, which has completely cured me of the appetite for tobacco. I would recommend all who are affected with this terrible habit to try the preparation, which will certainly cure it if the directions are followed.

W. P. HEALD.

[From E. W. Adkins, Knoxville, Tenn.]
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., August 5, 1867.

This is to certify that I had used tobacco to such an extent that my health had become greatly impaired, and my whole system deranged and broken down. In June, 1867, I purchased one box of Orton's Preparation, and after using it I found that I was completely cured. I have not had any hankering or desire for tobacco since using the preparation. I believe it to be all that it is recommended, and I would advise all who wish to quit the use of tobacco to try one box of Orton's Preparation.

E. W. ADKINS.

[From John Morrill, Bangor, Me.]
BANGOR, Me., March 24, 1868.

This is to certify that I have used tobacco for eighteen years; have tried many times to leave off, but have suffered so much from a dizziness in my head, and gnawing at my stomach, that I have soon given up the trial. A short time since a friend induced me to try Orton's Preparation (sold by you.) I have done so, and am completely cured. I did not in the least hanker after tobacco, either to smoke or chew, after I began to use the Preparation.

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Rooms of the Christian Association, No. 23 Fifth street.

City Councils will meet at their chambers, City Building, on Monday afternoon.

The Tombs had but six occupants last night, two of whom were women. Drunkenness was the main cause of trouble.

New Crossings.—Four new crossings have been put down at the junction of St. Clair and Penn streets, a very much needed improvement.

Passed Through.—Hon. George. H. Pendleton passed through the city yesterday morning on his way west. He took breakfast at the Union Hotel.

Fire Alarm.—A chimney on fire near the corner of Smithfield and Third streets caused an alarm to be sounded from box 16. The engines were out, and so was the fire when they reached the place.

Held for Trial.—John Gamworth, who was charged with assault and battery before Justice Ammon, on oath of Carl Kohl, was arrested, and after a hearing yesterday was held to bail for his appearance at court.

Perso nal.—Mr. E. P. Long, the efficient Assistant Superintendent of the Young Men's Christian Association, has returned, looking very much improved, from his Western trip.

The Saenger-fest will prove the greatest affair of the character ever witnessed in our city. The expenses of the Committees charged with the arrangements have already exceeded five thousand dollars.

Arm Broken.—A boy named Green, about twelve years of age, fell from a pile of lumber in the Twelfth ward yesterday morning, breaking his arm at the wrist. He resided on Carson street, where he was taken and medical assistance called in.

The Pine Tree Shilling.—This coin is called the Pine Tree Shilling from the fact of its having an impression of a pine tree upon it. It was the first coin struck in America. It bears on the obverse a pine tree and the word "Masathuseti," and on the reverse: "New England" and "One XII," with the date "1652." Although the coin was struck from the year 1652 until 1685, the date was not changed from the original. It was coined in Massachusetts.

Disorderly Conduct.—Anna C. Butler made information before Justice Ammon yesterday, charging Anna Catharine Smeltz with disorderly conduct. She alleges that the accused used violent and abusive language toward her. A warrant was issued.

Larceny of Coal.—John McGowan, watchman at Bailey's Coal Works, South Pittsburgh, made information before Justice Barker, charging Joseph Becker with larceny. He alleges that Becker has, at divers times, gone to the coal yard in the night and carried away buckets of coal. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Nominated.—Mr. Alfred Slack, has been nominated by the Republicans of the Second ward, Allegheny, to suceed Mr. Dunham, resigned, in Common Council. Mr. Slack is a gentleman of high moral character, liberal business experience, is largely interested in real estate, and, if elected, will make an able and efficient representative.

In pursuance to a call quite a number of young men assembled last night in Moore's Hall, west side Diamond alley, for the purpose of organizing a battery of Light Artillery. Mr. J. C. Martin presided. About thirty names were enrolled at members. There will be another meeting held in the same place next Friday evening, when it is expected the full number of names will be secured.

Surety.—Annie Ashby made information yesterday, before Alderman McMasters, against Hugh Madison, W. Richardson and "Duck" McKenna for surety of the peace. The prosecutrix alleges that the defendants threw stones at her house, breaking the windows and doors and otherwise damaging it, and threatened to cut her heart out. The parties reside in the Seventh ward. A warrant was issued.

Irving Institute.—Business Block, Nos. 10, 12, and 14, St. Clair street. Session commencing Monday, September 7th. The Principals, Mrs. Smith and Miss Markham, will be at the rooms from 9 A. M. till 12 M. every day during the coming week, where they will be pleased to see those who have already completed arrangements to attend, such as contemplate attending, or any who may desire to make inquiries concerning the school.

Malicious Mischief.—John McCune, a livery stable keeper on Grant street, made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters against Stephen Sample for malicious mischief. McCune alleges that Sample hired a horse and buggy of him yesterday morning, and securing two companions drove round the city at a reckless and furious rate, injuring the animal and damaging the buggy to the amount of fifty dollars. A warrant was issued.

Aggravated Assault and Battery.—Ferdiman Monsel made information before Justice Ammon yesterday, charging Samuel L. Woodward with aggravated assault and battery. The prosecutor, it appears, purchased a lot on Sarah street, East Birmingham, which has lately been occupied by the defendant, and when Monsel attempted to take possession of the property he was attacked by Woodward who, he alleges, struck him over the eye with some sharp instrument, inflicting a severe cut. Woodward was arrested, and after a hearing was held to bail in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at court.

Noon-day Prayer Meeting.—This meeting is growing more interesting and impressive daily. Yesterday it was well attended, every seat being occupied. We were specially glad to see so many ladies present and the deep interest manifested. The meeting is now held in the Young Men's Christian Association rooms, No. 23 Fifth street. A cordial invitation is given to all to attend and take some friend with them. Suitable arrangements have been made for the attendance of ladies, a number of whom are daily present, Saturday is specially devoted to prayer for the advancement of the Sabbath School cause and teachers are requested if possible to bring their scholars with them.

City Mortality.

Dr. A. G. McCandless, Physician to the Board of Health, reports the following interments in the City of Pittsburgh from August 16 to August 23:

Males ..... 12 | White..... 24 } Total..... 26
Females..... 14 | Colored ... 2 }

Alleged Larceny of a Trunk.

A warrant was issued yesterday by Alderman McMasters for the arrest of Annie Riley, charged, on oath of Christian Goodman, with the larceny of a trunk valued at eight dollars. The information alleges that the trunk was taken from the residence of the prosecutor, on Pennsylvania avenue, during the absence of the family, and that it has since been found in the possession of the defendant, who, at present, is stopping in Allegheny. The accused has not been arrested.

POLITICAL.

Meeting in the Eighth Ward.

The Republicans of the Seventh and Eighth wards assembled in mass meeting last evening, at the corner of Webster and Fulton streets. A neat and substantial speakers' stand had been erected on the vacant lot, at the corner named, which was brilliantly illuminated, and gaily decorated with Chinese lanterns. Julius Moore's Iron city band was in attendance, and the excellent music soon collected an immense crowd, and when the hour for meeting arrived, there were between two and three thousand persons present.

The meeting was called to order by Dr. J. Guy McCandles, who proposed the following list of officers:

President—Jacob H. Walters.

Vice Presidents—John C. Harper, Charles Jeremy, Jared M. Brush, Wm. Pownell, William Shore, Jr., James Patterson, And. Burns, John Rebman, Fred. Eversman and John Little, Jr.

Secretaries—Wm. Freeman, Jas. Owens, W. F. Robb and the reporters of the Republican press.

Mr. Walters, upon taking the chair, thanked the meeting for the honor conferred upon him, and then introduced Professor Pope and his Junior Grant Glee Club, who favored the meeting with an excellent campaign song, which was highly applauded. This was followed with music by the band.

The Chairman then introduced Major A. M. Brown, who made a most excellent address. He fully canvassed the records of the candidates during the past eight years, and contrasted the conduct of Seymour during and previous to the New York riots to that of Gen. Grant at Vicksburg and throughout the rebellion. The financial question was then ably discussed, and the clap-trap of "greenbacks for bonds" completely exploded. He said it either meant repudiation or it meant nothing; but the Democracy were afraid to present it in its true light to the loyal people, but were attempting to deceive them and draw them from the main issues.

He concluded with an eloquent appeal to the honor and honesty of the loyal people to go to the polls and vote to perpetuate the principles of human liberty.

Prof. Pope was loudly called for, and responded with a local campaign song entitled "Mr. Burt," which created great merriment in the crowd, and was most enthusiastically received.

John H. Hampton, Esq., being loudly called for by the meeting, was then introduced to the audience by the Chairman and proceeded to address the meeting.

Mr. Hampton said he was highly gratified to be called upon to address so large a meeting of his fellow-citszens. He said the country was upon the verge of a crisis, more important to the nation, and which more seriously threatened the liberties of the people, than any that the nation had ever passed through. He then canvassed the political history of the country since the Republican party came into power, and attributed the cause of the war to the Democratic party. He said it was their determination to rule the country, and finding the sceptre passing out of their hands, resolved to destroy it. The first drop of blood spilled in the Kansas difficulty was the beginning of the war. The loyal people of the nation, seeing that the trust imposed in this once great Democratic party had been violated, it was arraigned, tried and convicted by the people, who pronounced the first verdict against it in the election of Abraham Lincoln in 1860. The country was then in the hands of the Democracy and before the Republican party came in power the treasury was robbed, and the Government demoralized. After four years of war the Democratic party again claimed the suffrages of the people; it was again placed upon trial and the second verdict pronounced against it by the second election of Abraham Lincoln. The speaker then took up the question of reconstruction, and stated that the Democrats objected to negro suffrage. This, he said, was not the question at issue, but the Democracy, presuming upon the ignorance of the masses, attempted to work upon their prejudice against the negro, and for that purpose drew the negro into the canvass. The Democracy, he said, were misrepresenting the issue all over the country. Pendleton, in a late speech in Maine, had stated that it was stipulated upon the face of the five-twenty bonds that they should be redeemed in greenbacks. He pronounced the assertion a base falsehood and was ready with the proof to sustain it. After a most elequent peroration the speaker closed amid great applause and cries of "go on" from the audience.

Prof. J. W. Pope was again called upon and sung a song entitled "A Democrat in Search of Votes," which was received with prolonged applause.

The Chairman then introduced John M Kirkpatrick, Esq., who in a few remarks excused himself on account of the lateness of the hour, but said he would be very happy to meet the audience at any time hereafter during the campaign.

The meeting then adjourned with three cheers for Grant and Colfax.

Large Mass Meeting in the Fourth Ward, Allegheny — Enthusiastic Audience — Stirring Speeches.

A very large and enthusiastic meeting of the Republican voters of the Fourth ward, Allegheny, was held last evening in front of the Bismark Hotel. The Germania Turner Brass Band was in attendance and discoursed some excellent music at intervals during the progress of the meeting. At 7½ o'clock the meeting came to order by the appointment of the following list of officers:

President—John D. Bailey.

Vice Presidents—Leonard Walter, Sr., Wm. C. Murray, C. W. Shaffer, H. W. Bierhass, John Eichenmiller, D. M. Mullen, H. Ehlers, Wm. Benike.

Secretaries—George Irwin, Hugh McNeil, and reporters of the Republican press.

On taking the Chair, Mr. Bailey, in a few well timed and appropriate remarks, returned his thanks for the honor conferred upon him, and introduced B. F. Lucas, Esq., to the audience.

Mr. Lucas, on commencing his remarks, complimented the Republicans of the Fourth ward on their large and enthusiastic gathering, and the spirit of activity and energy with which they seemed to be animated. He proposed not to tread over the whole ground of the discussion now engaging the attention of the loyal people of the Union, but he wished simply to talk to them a short time on one issue which seemed to be the chief hobby of at least one of the parties asking for the suffrage of the people of our enlightened nation—that was the greenback and bond question. The gentleman then entertained the audience for nearly an hour, in a logical and eloquent discussion of this question showing that it was a side issue of he Democratic party. They use it as blind or mask to cover up the real issues before the country The question at the present time was not, as one of the irown candidates had expre sed it, of bonds or of taxes of suffrage, but a question whether peace or war should prevail. After developing this point at some length the speaker turned his attention to an examination of the record of the Presideltial candidates, paying a high eulogy to the genius and statesmanship of the hero and captain of the century, General Grant. It has been the cant of the Democratic party that they want a statesman and not a soldier, and to speak sneeringly of Grant. Let those who speak so sneeringly examine the record of his public career, watch him rising by the sure and firm advancement due and accorded only to real merit; follow him throughout all his history, and they, if at all honest, will be compelled to admit that whether in the field or in the Cabinet, the same far reaching and statesmanlike views characterize the actions of this remarkable man.

At the conclusion of Mr. Lucas' speech the band struck up a patriotic air, after which, in response to loud calls, Mr. W. B. Rodgers appeared on the stand and made a short address. Mr. Rodgers said that the Fourth ward, in 1864, gave the largest majority of any ward in the city for the Republican nominees, and from the appearance of the meeting before him he thought that result would not be diminished in the present contest. The present was one of the most important elections of any that have even taken place in our national history. Men may talk of greenbacks, and bonds, and taxes, and all that, but the real question at issue was, shall our government be preserved. This is the question which comes before us at the present time. On the one hand was a party of peace and the other a party of war. One the one hand was the preservation of our liberties, and on the other was anarchy, ruin and the complete overthrow of all those glorious privileges which as Americans we had ever been proud to boast as ours. The gentleman developed this point at some length, and closed by saying that the motto formerly was "Americans shall rule America," but a better motto is, "Loyal men shall rule America."

After more excellent music loud calls were made for Mr. Megraw, member of Council from the ward.

Mr. Megraw, on taking the stand, said he was surprised to find that his neighbors, with whom he was associated daily, had not yet discovered that he was no speech-maker. He was, however, glad to see so many of the loyal voters of the Fourth ward assembled in counsel together, and he hoped also to see them on the day of the election, as in the days of war, when they marched out in solid phalanx to put down the enemies of the Government. The gentleman then took up the bond question and viewed it from a practical standpoint, showing the fallacy of the Democratic prate about the matter, which elicited great applause from the audience.

Thos. M. Marshall, Esq., having arrived, he was conducted to the stand, the audience greeting him with three loud cheers. He said that he had just come from a meeting across the river, where he had been talking for about an hour to an acre of people, consequently he was unable to make a lengthy address at the present meeting. He understood that one of the speakers who preceded him had taken up the bond question, and from the character of the gentleman he judged the question to be exhausted, and would take up another theme, one of the great hobbies of the Democratic party—Negro Suffrage. Taking up this point, the speaker proceeeded in an able and convincing style to argue it, his remarks eliciting rounds of applause. In the course of his speech he alluded to the reconstruction policy of Congress, showing that it was the only one which gave justice to the South and security to the loyal men of the North, closing with a glowing eulogy on the nation's savior, U. S. Grant.

After the conclusion of Mr. Marshall's address, the Chairman announced a meeting to be held at Gerst's Hall, Third ward, this evening, and also one at the Second ward stand, on Tuesday evening, after which the meeting adjourned with cheers for the candidates, Grant and Colfax.

Ninth Ward Meeting.

A rousing mass meeting of the Republicans was held at the headquarters of the Bayardstown Grant and Colfax Club, corner of Penn and O'Hara streets. The meetwas organized by appointing Col. Joseph Kaye Chairman and Ralph J. Richardson Secretary.

Thomas M. Marshall, Esq., was the first speaker introduced by President Kaye. Mr. Marshall was received with cheers, and commenced by referring to the fact that the pole around which the speakers' stand was erected, had been put up eight years ago, when Abraham Lincoln was before the people for their suffrages for President of the United States. He spoke of the braying that is done by the Democracy, that the present political contest is that of a statesman against a butcher. Mr. Marshall gave his idea what a statesman should be. He then referred to the record of the two candidates, of their education, of their abilities and of their labors, and compared the soldier who had fought the battles of his country while Seymour, kid-gloved, was at home managing his fortune, collecting his rents and sympathizing and in fact aiding and abetting traitors to destroy the country. He held that Grant was peculiarly a statesman, and went on to show his power of centrol, of administration and of government of men. Leaving this Mr. Marshall touched upon the greenback question, and during his remarks referred to the innocent, hard working man Burtt, who he said it was reported had spent more sinew and muscle whipping school children than any man in the coun y. He then proceeded to show by illustration the result of a further issue of paper money. In referring to the "nigger" question he said that the lower, meaner and more degraded a white man is, the louder he will be found to cry down with the "nigger." Mr. Marshall spoke for one hour, and throughout he was listened to attentively and frequently applauded.

C. W. Robb, Esq., was the next speaker and was followed by John H. Kerr, Esq., both of whom made able and telling though necessarily short speeches, after which the meeting adjourned.

McClure Township Meeting.

A large and interesting meeting of the Republicans was held at Hussey's hotel, McClure township, last evening, Two brass bands and three glee clubs, the Belleview, lead by Prof. W. H. Whitehead, Allegheny, Prof. W. H. Slack, and the McClure township, under the leadership of Prof. David Jones, furnished the music on the occasion.

A large stand had been erected, and was gaily festooned with flags and Chinese lanterns, and the crowd was exceedingly enthusiastic.

The meeting was called to order by Col. Hugh S. Fleming, who made an eloquent and forcible address, after which he proposed the following list of officers:

President—J. O. Harrington.

Vice Presidents—R. D. Jones, Paul Rider, Thomas Monagan, Charles Kennedy, David Wilson, R. E. Davis, John Crowther, James Thipman and James Watt.

Secretaries—James H. Murdock, Thos. Peyatte and the members of the Rupublican press.

Mr. Harrington, upon taking the Chair, briefly thanked the meeting, and then introduced Colonel J. S. Poorman, of Ohio, who made an eloquent and forcible address, speaking for over an hour and a half.

Colonel T. M. Bayne was then introduced, and entertained the meeting for a considerable time in his usual eloquent and argumentative style.

The bands and glee clubs furnished excellent music at the opening and close of the meeting, and during the intervals between the speeches.

Meeting in the Twelfth Ward.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Republicans of the Tweifth ward (old Ninth) was held last evening at the Wigwam for the purpose of organizing a Tanner Club.

The meeting was organized with the following officers:

President—John W. Taylor.

Vice President—Ardel MacKlind.

Secretary—J. Hill Jones.

Addresses were made by H. C. Mackrell, Samuel Alcott, and John W. Taylor.

The following Committee on Finance was appointed: Themas McNeal, Milton Bartley, Ardel MacKlind, D. J. W. Mackrell, W. H. Anderson, John Baker, A. J. Cochran, Samuel T. Paisley, John M. Cooper, J. Hill Jones.

The roll book having been opened one hundred persons signed their names as members of the Club, after which, with three rousing cheers for Grant and Colfax the meeting adjourned until Wednesday evening, September 3d, at seven o'clock.

Primary Meeting in the Second Ward, Allegheny.

The Republicans of the Second ward, Allegheny, assembled in the School House last evening for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Common Council, to take the place of W. H. Dunham, resigned.

Mr. D. Macferron was called to the chair, and Wm. Alexander appointed Secretary.

After some discussion, on motion, Alfred Slack, Esq., was nominated by acclamation.

Mr. George Hutchison made a short but stirring speech, urging upon all to labor for the election of Mr. Slack, not by a mere nominal majority, but by such a vote as would show the appreciation which the men of the Second ward have for a man of sterling integrity, large business experience, and one who would faithfully represent them in all their interests in the legislation of the city.

At the conclusion of Mr. Hutchison's remarks, which were loudly applauded, the meeting adjourned.

U. S. District Court—Judge M'Candless.

In the case of the United States vs. Thirty-six barrels of whisky et al., owned by Strause & Baum, of Philadelphia, reported on trial yesterday, the jury found for the United States.

On the opening of the Court yesterday the case of the United States vs. sixteen barrels of distilled spirits et al., owned by B. G. Powell and M. Gribbin, was taken up. The jury found for the United States.

The next case taken up was that of the United States vs. distilled spirits, owned by D. J. Powell. The jury found for the United States.

The case of the United States vs. five barrels of rectifying whisky consigned by Hallback & Saiger, of Philadelphia, to Fred. Weichel. On trial.

In the bankruptcy branch of the Court final discharges were granted and certificates awarded to Joseph Derrah, of Bradford county; George W. Thompson, Bradford county; John H. Scovell, Bradford county; John D. Weaver, Montour county; Jasper J. Seymour, Wyoming county.

Petitions for final discharge were filed by James A. Griswold, Erie county, and Isaac Furman, of Northumberland county. The usual orders were made.

In the case of the United States vs. five barrels of rectified whisky consigned by Hollback & Seeges, of Philadelphia, to Fred. Weichel, of Wilkesbarre, was concluded, the jury finding for the United States.

The next case taken up was that of the United Stetes vs. the stills and other property belonging to distillery of Chas. Leohker, et al., of Luzerne county. On trial.

In the case of the United States vs. W. H. Wilson, on motion of defendant's attorney, an order was issued for the subpœna of six witnesses for the defense, the costs being paid by the United States, the defendant being unable, pecuniarily, to procure their attendance.

The Grand Jury found true bills in the following cases: U. S. vs. John Lee; indicted for carrying on business of retail liquor without license. U. S. vs. Frederick Miller; similar indictment. U. S. vs. George Spelling; indicted for distilling without bond, and setting up stills without permission of the collector.

In the bankruptcy branch final discharges were granted and certificates awarded to John O. Rose, Wm. Rose, Benj Wilcox, Wm. B. Keys, Tioga county.

A petition for discharge was filed by Andrew J. Marshall, of Pittsburgh.

James Russell, of Warren county, filed a petition for adjudication in bankruptcy.

In the matter of Spuire Hall, bankrupt, on petition of assignee filed, leave was granted to sell certain personal property at public sale, upon giving notice required by general orders.

A Gate Difficulty.

Samuel Woodward and Ferdinand Marsch are neighbors, residing in East Birmingham. Yesterday Samuel made information before Alderman McMasters against Ferdinand for assault and battery. It seems that there had been a gate in the fence separating the lots, but it has been closed up for some time past. About three weeks ago it was broken down, leaving a free passage way, which was made use of by Marsch in passing to and from his house. Yesterday Woodward alleges he commenced to nail it up again when he was stopped by Marsch, who, after some words, struck him a terrible blow with his fist above the eye. A warrant was issued.

Young Lady Dangerously Injured.

A young lady named Maria Hogan was dangerously if not fatally injured by being struck on the head with a brick, which was toppled from the wall of Booth's buildings, now in course of erection on the corner of Liberty and Hay streets. The top of the head was laid open in a large gash, large enough to lay a finger in. She was conveyed to her home in Spring alley, Twelfth ward, and Dr. Dickson called in, who, after an examination, discovered that the skull was severely and dangerously injured. She was employed at the Duquesne Depot as telegrapic operator. It is doubtful whether she will survive the injury.

Old Sixth Ward Politics.

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE:—Permit me to present through your columns the name of Mr. R. R. Bulger as a candidate for Council in the Seventh ward, (old Sixth,) subject to the Republican primary meeting to be held on Saturday next. He has given consent for the use of his name in this connection, and if nominated and elected will reflect much credit to his constituents and the city at large. He is a shrewd, active business gentleman, the possessor of sound common sense, practical, honest and honorable, and in every way worthy the position. It is of just such men that the City Councils should be composed.

A New Building Material.

A scientific gentleman residing a short distance from the city has discovered large deposits of clays and cements, which, combined in certain proportions, make an admirable equivalent for stone or brick, and as some experiments show, can be made of various colors or tints. Several burned and unburned specimens to show that they are capable of use for building purposes in either state are left at the office of the GAZETTE and may be inspected. The ingenious gentleman who has detected the remarkable capabilities of these materials has succeeded in effecting the purchase of the land containing them, but needs aid and co-operation in utilizing them, and authorizes us to say the inducements to investment are quite remarkable, that properly worked the manufacture of the brick or stones, suitable for all kinds of building and very durable, would richly reward the enterprise of the parties who may now avail themselves of a most advantageous arrangement. We commend this subject to the attention of contractors and builders.

Most Bitters of the present day that are loudly puffed through the newspapers as having great curative properties are vile compounds and base impositions, containing no medicinal virtues whatever, and are really very poor whisky beverages, and, instead of acting as a stimulant and tonic, have a tendency to weaken the stomach by entirely destroying the coating. The public should therefore be very cautious and purchase none but Roback's Stomach Bitters, which have stood the test as a remedial agent for many years, and are really as their name indicates, a stomach bitters and not a beverage. They combine the properties of the best tonic and a stimulant—a laxative, an efficient and anti-bilious agent and the best stomachic known to the world, and when taken in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills, are the safest and surest preventive against all bilious derangements, thoroughly regulating the whole system and giving tone to the digestive organs.

They are highly recommended as an invigorating tonic to mothers while nursing, increasing the flow of milk, and for convalescents, to restore the prostration which always follows long-continued sickness, they are unsurpassed. No household should consider themselves safe from the ordinary maladies without these invaluable medicines. They can be obtained of any druggist. TTSF

GENUINE

GLYCERINE TOILET SOAP,

MANUFACTURED BY

PETER SQUIRE, 277 Oxford street' London.

This Soap has been, by a peculiar process, freed from the excess of alkali almost invariably found even in the purest Soaps, and at the same time it is made to take up a large quantity of Glycerine (40 per cent). It is to this latter substance that it chiefly owes its soothing quality—softening the skin, preserving the complexion, preventing chapping and the unpleasant roughness experienced in cold weather. It is found most useful in allaviating the irritation produced by dryness of the skin. On account of its great purity it recommends itself to all persons that suffer from the use of common Soaps; for delicate skins it is the only Soap that can be tolerated. It is particularly useful for cleansing diseased skins, where the irritation produced by ordinary Soaps causes so much inconvenience. It is the best agreeable Shaving Soap that can be used, leaving the skin soft and comfortable. The Soaps usually sold as Glycerine Soaps contain little or no Glycerine. It is only necessary to apply the tongue to the surface and the genuine will be distinguished by the sweet taste. Agent,

SIMON JOHNSTON,

Corner Smithfield and Fourth Streets.
